

THIS JOB OF OURS

Although sometimes we dodge issues, important enough to take the limelight of our light, they must eventually be met.

In spite of what we may tell the boys and even ourselves at times, our main idea and purpose in life and here at Wesleyan especially is TO CATCH A HUSBAND.

Now that we are here what are we going to do about it? Are we going to give up at the start and not go through with the purpose of our presence here or are we going to take advantage of the time and place and get out after our husband to be?

Now, as to methods to use, we recommend the Pharm, use that for your stamping grounds. Slip out whenever you can to go to ride with a prospect.

DEACON BEAMS

(With apologies to the Watchtower)

First Wesley-Anne: "Do you like the boys at Mercer?"

Second Wesley-Anne: "No! They're just a bunch of farmers."

First Wesley-Annie: "What do you mean?"

Second Wesley-Anne: "All they do is sow wild oats."

A doctor declares that kissing shortens life. Andy is sure he means single life.

Little girl, your eyes of blue, Wistful pools of beauty divine Tell me, tell me, "I love you."

The next few days the Wesleyan girls will be showing the new styles fished, it is now up to some one to add the new styles will be showing the Wesleyan girls.

A Wesleyan girl said that since the noiseless typewriter has been invented a noiseless chewing gum.

Professor Knight: "Weren't you in my class last term?"

Stude: "Yes, Sir, and I passed it, too."

Prof. Knight: "Think lightning strikes twice in the same place? Get out."

Jabber

And it lovely weather folks? We ask you. Just the right thing for cooling, etc.—but Wesleyan is out for the holidays that they take every spring.

And speaking of the Spring Festival—it was a knock-out. We saw all the Kappa Alphas out, dressed alike, at least, they were for one slight variation.

It all makes us think of being real poetic and here is a little rhyme on the subject.

'Twas the night before Spring Festival And all through the frat house Not a creature was stirring, Not even a mouse.

April foolday is almost here and we are on the watch out for practical jokes. We remember very well when we used to kick the hat that had a brick under it and all that Thomas-folkery—but those days are gone.

Our lady friend from Wesleyan has been here part of the holidays, and the other day, we carried her down to see the baseball game.

The city suddenly decided to take all the evergreens out of Tannal square park the other day. We think it was because the Spring Festival was coming on and they knew their unions.

Prof. Bailey said that people who lived in the mountains were more apt to be taller than others due to the atmospheric conditions.

BEARS LOSE TO MISSISSIPPIS

Although they fought gamely, the Bears were unable to prevent the Mississippi Aggies from taking a two-game series of baseball from them last Friday and Saturday.

Cansey Overstreet, a sophomore, pitching his first game of college baseball, allowed the Aggies only five hits in the first game but his team mates were only able to get two hits off the opposing pitcher.

Joe Manley relieved Overstreet in the ninth inning and retired the Mississippians in one-two-three order.

The fielding of the Mercer team in this game was air-tight. On one occasion Jim Tom Bush stopped a hard hit grounder, tagged a runner coming to third and threw the batter out at first.

Wallace Butts made a pretty play when he went back of second to pick up a grounder that was labeled for a hit and Huck Loser made a pretty grandstand catch when he took a fly off the left field fence at a critical stage in the game.

Jabber—Of The Spring Festival and College Hill Pharm, By Feoria Cleeman

Kids can grow taller without being pressed down. At any rate, V. V. Harris and "Tiny" Roberts must have been born and raised below sea level.

People are always taking the Cluster seriously. Now we see a little piece in the exchange column of the P. C. Blue Stocking that says:

"That extraordinary paper, the Mercer Cluster, has pulled another good one. They are running a humorous social column called 'Jabber' by Feoria Cleeman, which the LaGrange Reporter claims is a take-off of 'Chatter' in the Macon Telegraph, written by Cleo Freeman.

Pass the smelling salts, Charlie, we are about to faint!

Tom Cobb was raving about his picture in the Senior Cluster being that of the Dean of Columbia. We hope that the dean won't object and that Tom had not had too much Spring festival in his bones when he wrote his column.

"Chicken" Chickster, who owns the College Hill Pharm, which is the favorite meeting place for Wesleyan and Mercer, has decided to put a new wrinkle in the game.
