BEARS PLAY PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE

Frosh Teams of Mercer and Georgia Battle Friday

CUBS TO TUSSLE WITH BULL PUPS IN ANNUAL FIGHT

Two Teams Take Trip to Louisville to Twirl Doggies' Tails

SEASON'S HARDEST TILT

Georgia Won Last Year by Last Minute Touchdown

The Mercer Baby Bears will get their first real test Friday afternoon, when they meet the strong University of Georgia freshmen team at Louisville, Georgia. The Cubs left Thursday afternoon, 22 strong, for the little Georgia city, and are in good shape for the battle.

The Cubs lost their battle with the Georgia rats last year in Louisville, by a lone touchdown, and accordingly are anxious to get revenge for defeat. The game last year drew a huge throng of football admirers, and was such a success that it was scheduled there again this season.

Have Preliminary Game

The Cubs are expected to be well entertained during their stay in the little town, and many festivities are already included on the freshmen's menu for the day. The rat teams will play immediately after the conclusion of the game between Louisville High and Wrens High. Thus, during the day, the fans will see two games for the price of one.

Kap Tipton, the rat mentor, has been getting his team in shape since the comparatively easy victory over Gordon two weeks ago, and has developed an offense that has shown up well against the varsity.

Many Prep Stars

Some of the players on the freshman football squad who are showing up well include: Corbin, former Lanier High School star; Matt, of Gordon Institute; Newsome, of Columbus High; Methvin, Riverside star; Under.

WAGNON SPEAKS TO "Y" MEMBERS

Volunteer Band Hears Lincoln Wong's Talk on China

Mr. D. S. Wagon, secretary and treasurer of the Union Drygoods company of Macon, and teacher of the Baracca Sunday school class of the Vineville Baptist church, spoke at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday night. The address set forth the advantages of the church to college students.

On Wednesday night a large number of students were entertained by a musical program given by several talented musicians of the city. A Bible study led by Professor Batts, of the department of Religious Education, was the feature of Thursday evening's program.

Ministers Meet Also

According to an announcement by the president of the "Y" the Y. M. C. A. cabinet would be announced the latter part of this week.

Lincoln Wong, of Canton, China, spoke to the members of the Volunteer band at its meeting last Thursday night. China as a place for foreign missionaries was the topic discussed by Mr. Wong. Due to the small number of student volunteers

EXTRA! EXTRA! SEE WHAT'S HAPPENED

A letter addressed to "Mr. Feoria Cleeman" was received by The Cluster society, edited just before the wheels of the press started running and there's little time to tell the public all about it now. Anyway, it's from a Wesley-Anne and it concerns a great honor which has been bestowed upon The Cluster. See next week's edition!

FROSH ATTEMPT AT COLORS FAILS

Greased Warriors Taken on Parade After Defeat by Sophomores

PERFORM AT WESLEYAN

Freshman, spare that tree. Touch not a single bough. Last year, it resisted me. And I'll protect it now.

The war cry of the sophs last Friday afternoon drew the thundering answer from the ranks of the freshmen.

"Columbus, gained a world. But gave that world its grandest lesson. On sail on."

And the fifty greasy, slippery, city and field rats, who got in Farmer Cobb's tired barrel, sailed and resailed right into that defensive bunch of sophomores beneath the old elm tree. It was a mighty but unsuccessful effort to capture the sophomore red and white colors as they hung tantalizingly ten feet above the ground.

"Get him!" A sophomore yelled to a classmate. He pointed, "That one." The freshman in dangerous proximity of the colors was pulled away. "We got 'im." They shouted. All statements were necessarily brief as dirt, dust fists, feet and unloosed grease immediately filled all vacuums. Among the freshmen was a former sparring partner of Paul Berlenbach and Tiger Flowers.

Torn Clothes!

Old timers on the side lines were reminded of the attacks on machine gun nests in France. Instead of the pop-pop-popping of the machine guns, were heard the rip-rip-ripping of various and sundry articles of wearing apparel. The

THREE NEW MEN TAKEN IN ROUND TABLE THURSDAY

John Gilbert, Tom Rogers, Frank Jordan, Initiated Last Week

IS AN HONORARY SOCIETY

Organization Now Has Membership of Seven Students

The membership of the Mercer University Round Table, honorary organization of the campus, was increased to seven through the recent initiation of three new members. The newly initiated members are: Thomas D. Rogers, Gainesville, Ga.; John J. Gilbert, Brunswick, Ga.; and Frank J. Jordan, Talbotton, Ga.

The Round Table corresponds in many respects to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary organization, except that its members are not selected solely on their scholastic standing. The membership is elected from those students who, through their qualities of leadership, have proven themselves to be the most prominent in the various activities of the campus.

The purpose of the organization is to create a closer bond between the students and the officials of the University, and to discuss and promote those interests for the betterment of the school.

Prominent Students

The new members who have been

JUNIORS CHOOSE COURT MEMBERS

Maynard Smith, Darby Cannon, Clyde Carpenter Elected to Student Tribunal

Maynard Smith, of Cairo, Darby Cannon, of Lavonia and Clyde Carpenter, of Macon, were elected as Junior Class representatives to the Student Tribunal at a meeting held on the night of October 4th. Joe Estes, President of the class, presided at the meeting.

Another Meeting

Another meeting is scheduled to be held next week at which time the matter of adopting a design for the senior

WELL, WELL, WE'D 'A NEVER THOT IT!

The sophomore who poised himself in the tree last Friday and beat off the onslaught of the frosh in their attempt at the colors was in the right church but the wrong pew. If he had just changed sides, everything would have been O. K. It all turns out that Sophomore Dick Wiggins, cheer leader of everything, has exactly 1/2 hour to his credit and, according to Mr. Garrett, "rates" freshman.

MERCER STUDES FETED SATURDAY

Wesleyan Girls Treat Boys to Informal Reception Last Week-end

FORCED INDOORS BY RAIN

Approximately one hundred and fifty Mercer boys, mostly new men, were guests of the Presidents' Council of Wesleyan at an informal reception in honor of the Freshman Class Saturday night after the Mercer-Furman game.

Each year some one of the upper classes entertain for the newcomers at the college but this is the first time that the Presidents' Council has assisted in the social activities of the new class.

Rain Interferes

Due to rain, promising on the campus as planned was impossible. However, the spacious porches of the main building were utilized for the purpose. Each boy was introduced to a fresh man as he came in and, in this manner, everyone had a girl to himself for the evening.

The reception halls were decorated with palms and ferns, and the Wesleyan orchestra played during the entire evening. The lavender and purple of Wesleyan and the colors of the class were suspended from the chandeliers.

Refreshments Served

About ten-thirty, ice cream, cake and punch were served by the members of the Council. The occasion was an especially enjoyable one for many of those present in that it was the first social activity of the Wesleyan freshmen and many of the Mercer boys.

It was the first opportunity of the freshman classes of both Mercer and Wesleyan to be introduced to one another.

TEAM PRACTICES HARD FOR THIRD S. I. A. A. BATTLE

"Blue Stockings" Will Go Home "Bluer," Says Bruins

JIMMIE STAMPS IS STAR

Opponents Have Beaten Wake Forest and Tied Marines

The Mercer Bears, their temper aroused by their loss to Furman last Saturday, will meet the strong Presbyterian College team on Alumni Field Saturday afternoon.

That the Bears are out for revenge and are prepared to take vengeance on another South Carolina College, cannot be denied, after once seeing them practice.

Stamps Is Star

The battle Saturday, from all indications, will be another colorful affair. The Presbyterian "Blue Stockings" have on their team Jimmy Stamps, who is conceded to be one of the best forward passers in the south.

The Blue Stockings have a good record for this year. Last Saturday, they defeated the strong Wake Forest team 14 to 7, and the week before, they tied the Paris Island Marines 6 to 6. The Marines will be remembered as the squad that tied the Bears at the end of last season.

Marines Strong

The Marines have, practically the same squad as they had last season, and the Bears could only tie them 0 to 0 when the two teams met at the height of Mercer's scoring power, just after they had defeated Oglethorpe 31 to 7. All of this goes to prove that the Bears are meeting a real team Saturday, a team that will make a strong bid for the S. I. A. A. championship.

The Presbyterian team has been second by Major J. D. Blair and he is strong in his praise of them. Then

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR SOPHS' HELP

Class Gives Dr. Montague Assurance of no More Hazing

The sophomore class pledged themselves to back President Montague in bringing about a more friendly relation between themselves and the first year men, and to do away with all unnecessary roughness during the rest of the year, in a meeting held in chapel Monday night.

The meeting was called by Dr. Montague as an outcome of injuries received by several men in the flag rush held here last Friday. Dean Jacobs and Registrar Garrett, along with Dr. Montague, made short talks, all urging the members of the second year class to do away with all brutality and hazing of freshmen.

They urged that a brotherly feeling should exist between the two classes and that there should be no repetition of the casualties of last Friday. The president of the class then took charge and a number of the students expressed themselves on the question.

Sportsmanship Complimented

A committee was appointed to draw up a set of resolutions commending Marshall, one of the first year men who was hurt, on his sportsmanlike at-

Hopee You Likee Mercer, Too, Mr. Wong!

By Hal Harris

Mercer University's friendly relations in the future with China are assured by the fact that the number of Chinese students here is increasing to such a number that any act of that country against Mercer would be like cutting off her right hand.

Of course, there are not really very many—only four to be exact—but that is such an increase that it seems like many more than one would expect. Now Wesleyan doubles that number, but she does things by doubles. She even had those eight Chinese girls picture in the Macon and Atlanta papers.

But, according to Mr. Wong, one of our students, Wesleyan can not claim but seven of those students—for he claims one of them himself. The lady is Miss Agnes Mok, who came over here with him and two more Chinese students, the fourth of our Eastern friends having already been here for a year.

Mr. Wong Speaks

Mr. Wong was the principal speaker for the Chinese students two were lucky enough to get them all together down at their rooms on University Place; that is, he was the speaker during the time he was there, for, after we had been there only a few minutes, he dashed out of the door headed for his boarding house like a hound after a rabbit with the exclamation: "There's my girl."

We looked through the door and on the steps of the house opposite there stood a Chinese girl, in full dress (full Chinese dress—which is more than "full dress" in our Western civilization). He bounded up the steps and together, arm in arm, they entered the house.

Chinese Trophies!

We were left to enjoy the beautiful

Chinese tapestries, and athletic trophies that Mr. Wong had brought from China to adorn his room. He was born in Canton, China, and attended the Pui Ching Baptist Academy. It was through the influence of Miss Alva Guppi, a teacher there, that the Chinese students decided to come to Mercer.

Grouped about the room were numerous athletic medals won in hurdle races and shot-put contests. From the chandelier were hung strips of crepe paper, which gave an impression of a large Chinese lamp.

Introducing Miss Mok

Before his hurried exit, Mr. Wong had given us several picture albums, including pictures of himself, family, school, and many pictures of his sweetheart, also of Canton, China, the eighth Chinese student at Wesleyan who Mr. Wong claims, thereby taking
