

Money Will be Spent
On New Library Books

The library will spend several hundred dollars in the next few weeks for books, according to Miss Sallie Boone. "The professors are now making up their lists of books," stated Miss Sallie, "and the order will be sent as soon as these lists are turned in."
"The library receives approximately $1,000 a year, nearly $600 of which is used for subscriptions to magazines, newspapers and for binding the magazines. This binding makes the magazines available for reference work in future years."
"That which is left is used each year for new books. The major portion will be spent immediately, a small sum being held in reserve, to be used for books that are necessary for reference work later in the year."

Freshmen Commence Tennis Tournament

Sixteen first-year men have entered the annual freshman tennis tournament here. Play was started Tuesday afternoon. The contest is sponsored by the tennis club with an idea of showing up men who later will be eligible for the varsity and freshman teams.
The pairings follow: Wilson will play Moseley; Bellew, J. Clark; C. D. Clark, Justice; Roberts, Griffin; Calloway, Glover; Neeley, Davis; Waterson, Holmes; Etheridge, Canabiss.
Due to unfavorable weather and the lack of available courts on the campus, a week will be allowed for the playing of first round matches, according to the tournament committee.
It is likely that the four men finishing highest in this tournament will comprise the freshman team for this school year, but ratings of the matches will not definitely determine the personnel of the team. Those freshman finishing highest will be granted membership in the tennis club.

It was announced that a cup has been offered by Alfred Pullen, an alumnus of the university, to the organization "doing the most good for Mercer university" this year. The following committee was appointed to select a method of giving the award: Julian Webb, Will Ed Smith and Charlie Wallace.
A constitution and by-laws for the club will be presented at the meeting Monday for adoption. These men will draw up the laws: Charles Cork, Aubrey Estes, and Roy Aven.
The time of meeting was changed to 10:30 o'clock on Monday.

'Square and Campus'
To be Organized Here

The Master Masons of Mercer will meet at the chapel period Monday morning to organize a chapter of the Square and Campus, national fraternal organization composed of undergraduates and teachers who are Master Masons. The local group will petition the national order after permanent organization is perfected, it was said.
C. E. Langston has been elected temporary president of the Mercer group, and Stokes Walton, secretary. All Alumni of Mercer who are Masons, as well as such students and professors, have been asked to be present at the meeting in the chapel Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Should be Modified.
Each of the speakers are to be allowed four minutes for his speech, it is understood. Several first year men from each society are trying for places and the freshman inter-society debate will probably be held soon.

Law Parallel Books Are Added to Library

Action on the recent statement issued by Dean Joe McClain of the law school, that course in parallel reading pertaining to the students of the law school would be given, was taken when Dean McClain announced the mechanics of the proposed course.
Over 45 books have been placed in the library of the law school for the use of the various students. Each student must read two books each year. Synopsis of each book read is to be submitted to the faculty, who take into consideration the merits of the report.
These books are said to be fictitious as well as factitious. Some famous trials in American legal history have been fabricated into interesting stories. The story of the rise and the powers of the supreme court and its effect on the Constitution is one of the most popular books at present. However, with the addition of "The American Tragedy" by Theodore Dreiser and "Human Jettison" both books woven around skillfully executed murder tales, the main question in the law school among those students who have read these books, is "was he guilty?"
