BAND MEMBERS GET COMPLETE UNIFORMS

No more will the spectator be forced to watch a uniformless band perform. This year, after pressure had been brought to bear by the Blue Key fraternity and other student organizations, forty uniforms have been ordered. They will be distributed to members of the band in time for Saturday's game.

Each member of the band will have a black cape, lined with orange satin, one corner of which throws back over the shoulder. The headdress will be a black overseas cap, trimmed with orange braid and having an orange "M" embroidered on the side.

The drum-major will be resplendent in black trousers with an orange stripe on each leg, a black hammertail coat, trimmed with orange braid, and an 18-inch black hat with an orange plume.

The members who reported for practice Monday are: Trumpets: Albert Evans, Sandersville; Bill Benton, Macon; Jimmie Lawson, Macon; Franklin Dukes, Sandersville; and Al Davino, Brooklyn, N. Y. Bases: Henry Jones, Macon; and John Calloway, Atlanta. Clarinets: Sidney Weinstein, Macon. Saxophone: Billy Grimes, Trombones: Raymond Coppinger, Atlanta. Alto: Elliot Lawson, Macon. Drum-Major: Willie Smith, Atlanta.

An announcement has been made that anyone interested in musical work is invited to attend the next session of band practice.

returned the ball to the 33-yard line. Roberts and Henderson themselves immediately drove the ball to Mercer's 20-yard line but were temporarily stopped. A pass, Henderson to Foster, was good for 11 yards and a first down. And then Roberts, after he and Henderson had tried to crack their opponent's line once each, went around end for a touchdown. Olsson rushed through and blocked Beasley's place-kick to give Vandy a 6-0 edge.

Mercer felt the ball for the first time then, but after two futile attempts by Zinkowsky, punted. The first period was finished with neither team weakening. The second quarter passed in the same fashion until a quick kick by Henderson sailed over Zinkowsky's head and Leyendecker was there to ground the ball. Zinkowsky tried to fling him off but accidentally kicked the ball which was recovered by Leyendecker. Again it was Roberts, and again it took to plays to push the pigskin over for a touchdown. Beasley kicked goal and Mercer had a 13-0 score staring in her face, as the half ended.

Mercer Rallies

It was a forward lateral pass that created worry in the minds of the Commodores and their fans. Late in the second quarter it was good for 21 yards, and in the early 4th quarter another of the same make-up fell into the hands of Pinky Walden who raced 58 yards before he was downed. Although this put the ball on Vandy's 24-yard line, it was to no avail as the ball went over to Vandy Henderson, however, fumbled and it was Mercer's ball again. Again the mighty line of Colonel Dan's tightened and caused Cimperman to punt, the ball rolling out on Vandy's 5-yard line. Henderson was rushed on his kick, and the ball went out on his own 30. Walden passed to Cimperman for 17 yards and after trying the line with no gain, tossed another to Harrison for 15 yards. Only 3 yards for a touchdown, but three hard tries by Walden failed, until on the 4th down Reesor caught Trommerhauser's pass over the goal line and Mercer had scored. Bob Sperry kicked goal, making the score 13-7.

Roberts Again

Sperry kicked to Askew who returned 28 yards to the 38-yard line. Roberts and Henderson gained five in two tries, and then with wonderful interference, Roberts went around end for 61 yards and a touchdown. Beasley kicked goal for the final score of 20-7.

CO-EDS ADD LUSTRE TO CAMPUS, IS OPINION

is a time-honored custom that requires a gentleman to pick up things dropped on the floor by ladies. From observation, it seems "droopy" seems to be one of the ills of this year's class of co-eds; Mercer men keep their eyes glued to the floor, instead of watching the instructor or their notebook. But in all justice, we must admit that co-eds stimulate scholarship. Many boys prepare their lessons because they are embarrassed by their failure to do good work in a class of co-eds. Masculine superiority must be maintained.

We should have the co-eds' opinion of the boys for this issue of The Cluster, but we just hated to destroy the boys' illusion of themselves. Well, if any of the co-eds see this, we shall certainly hear what they think of the boys.

With this year's group of delectable creatures on the campus, there were many oh's and ah's to be heard. "Yea, sir," a student who has just come from Tech was heard to say, "I'm all in favor of co-education."

And that seems to be the consensus of opinion.

WELCOME

We, the members of the Alpha Kappa sorority, wish to welcome the Phi Omegas, Mercer University's second chartered sorority, to our campus. We wish them all the success and hope that we shall be able to work together for mutual benefit.—Alpha Kappa Sorority.

tackles; Williamson, Boyd, Ryckly, guards; Gilbert, center. The backfield, one of the best that has been at Mercer in years, includes NeSmith, Allen, Mosley, Thomas, Owens, Abbott, Wiseman and Hampton.

Cubs In Shape

The Cub team is in good condition although entering Friday's battle as the underdog, are expected to give the highly-rated Bullpups stiff opposition today. This team of freshmen are determined to avenge the 20-0 lacing which the Bullpups rendered to last year's Frosh.

The Frosh so far have only four games scheduled. They play B. P. I. and G. M. C. in Macon, and engage the Georgia freshmen and South Georgia State College on the road. Further plans are being made to schedule several other games for the Frosh.

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes. "It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies
