The minimum cost for Freshmen at Massachusetts Institute of Technology is $1,080 per year, which makes it the most expensive men's college in the United States. For your information there are 2,881 students at Massachusetts Tech. What puzzles most of us is if Mercer increased their present charges to that amount would the student body increase to that number or not?

HOORAY FOR OUR SIDE!

Professor G. F. Hall in a recent address at Boston University told the students that the best English is not spoken in the North, but in the South. Educated Virginians and not Bostonians speak the best English on this continent, and the Virginians pronounce and conjugate better than other Americans who have a tendency to only pronounce the most prominent syllables in a word.

a bad job of folding up and straightening out their legs, either.

Deaness Flannels

But when Willie came out with Don for that fan dance—all we could see was "Deaness' flannels." And the fan was such a huge object!—Barely large enough to cover Willie's hand. If you didn't see it, you missed something, 'cause it is just beyond my powers to tell how funny it really was. And Don nearly tickled everybody to death when he made that mistake with his fans—put it up instead of down and changed it so quickly.

I didn't know that Mercer really had a quartet that could sing but they fooled me that time. John,

Tom, Lamar, and Jimmy can certainly sing.

But the event that I fear shall bring down the wrath of the Baptist Association on our heads—was and still is the "mystery dance"—the dance without a name. But the effect can only be expressed by the sentiments of one of our football heroes who shouted, "Mama, take me home!"

The night was climaxed by a "wiff-bang" bout between Crump and Coleman with Al Davino as referee. It would have been lots more fun if Al had been in the fight.

But I couldn't be content until I had visited the daffy little mid-get show over in the corner. And I went by to see Madame "What-was-her-name" and you couldn't guess in a hundred years what she told me. But I'll give you a hint—one of you blond—very blond—students upon the campus had best watch your step or you may be hooked.

Training is everything. The peach was once a bitter almond; cauliflower is nothing but cabbage with a college education.

as Chaplain.

Dr. Keel's favorite pastime is duck hunting with trained decoys. He has the distinction of leading a field of six hundred duck hunters in Louisiana. He also likes to hunt squirrel, quail, and dove. The duck, however, is his favorite.

Dr. Keel has studied Latin, Greek and Aramaic. One of his hobbies is reading Hebrew; however, he states that his real hobby is the study of the Semitic Language, pertaining to Jews.

Dr. Elvin E. Overton, faculty member, who was recently elected to honorary membership, was present. This was the first meeting of the fraternity since his election two weeks ago.

terback; Thomas and Morris, half-backs; Davino, fullback. This backfield may start against Centre. Mamalakis has replaced the injured Tyson at the guard position, with Ward holding forth on the other side of Lichter who will start at center. Porter and Williamson will hold down the tackle assignments, and Warlick and Nesmith will protect the flanks.

Morale Good

The morale of the team, though low after the Clemson game, is good for the coming battle, and the Bears are going to try to make the Colonels suffer for their humiliating defeat of a week ago.

The team entrained for Danville today and will return to Macon about Sunday noon.
