

Wesleyan To Show Educational Film

"The Human Adventure" said to be one of the finest opportunities in one's educational life is coming here February 5th in the form of a movie, prepared by Dr. Bréasted of Chicago. This picture will be shown twice, matinee and evening, on this date at Wesleyan Conservatory with the same admission charges for each performance.

The Macor showing of "The Human Adventure" will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women, and tickets can be bought from Mrs. H. H. Rogers. Admission is twenty-five cents for students and forty cents for adults.

This movie is educational, informational, and entertaining, and Mercer students are urged to attend.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT

(Continued from Page One) The group will give its annual Macon performance early in April, followed by a single engagement at Bessie Tift in Forsyth. A third week-end trip is tentatively scheduled for the first of May.

Following is the personnel of the chorus, first tenors, James Rawls, Oscar Spicer, Isaac Levine, Bailey Small, and John Wilson; second tenors, Jack Phillips, Robert Bale, Frank Bozeman, Charles Hearn, John Dixon, Jack Nesbit, Malcolm Stokes, and Ledford Carter; first bass; Tom Flournoy, Fred Ford, Billy Knox, Hugh Carney, Leon Herrin, R. C. Souder, and Charles Hargrove; second bass; Bob Crandall, Abe Conger, Bill Cutts, Morgan Fisher, Ben Gilbert, James Gilbert, and T. R. Smith; accompanist, Maines Rawls.

MR. CAMERON SAYS

(Continued from Page One) discusses in this same issue of the Publisher's Weekly the high spots of the American literary scene for 1936. Among the things he mentions are the distinguished contributions to scholarship for the year just past and two of the publications which he believes are distinguished are in our library. These are the set of the "Dictionary of American Biography" which final volume was issued this past year; and "The Dictionary of American English on Historical Principles" which is being issued by the University of Chicago and published its first volume last year, which we subscribed to.

We have had notification today (Tuesday) that our stacks have been shipped from the factory and that the superintendent for their installation will be arriving within a few days. The same man who supervised the much larger installation at Agnes Scott college is coming here.

INTERVIEWS
