News Clipping Collection Is NYA-Museum Project

A project for NYA students in the Museum this year has been the classification of newspaper clippings about Mercer and the preparation of a scrapbook.

Since no file of local newspapers is kept on the campus, and since access to this repository of local history is constantly in demand, the Mercer publicity in both morning and evening issues is marked as it appears, clipped and sorted, and finally pasted on blank pages for binding in permanent form.

Dr. Wilbur Stout began this work several years ago when he was publicity director, and he has continued to save his local papers for the library. Likewise irregular contributions come in from other sources on the campus.

Under Eight Headings

Every two months during the year all publicity is distributed under eight general headings. Athletics comes first, with news stories on all sports, dope column comment, pictures of coaches and players, news about student health, the gymnasium and the department of physical education.

Next comes alumni news, with items about former students, marriages, babies, new jobs, promotions, civic and religious leadership, political ambitions, and such like. Since Mercer is seldom mentioned directly, this division cannot be entirely comprehensive.

Advertising Recorded

Advertising comes next, with space for promotion stories, layouts of all kinds, whether they appear in the local newspapers or not, small leaflets, and "envelope stuffing."

Departmental news follows, with regular and special activities of departments and department members, field trips, attendance at conventions, research work in progress, new appointments, resignations and the like.

Under the head of Civic and Religious, there are clippings about Blue Key, Cardinal Key, Inter-civic club dinners, connections with Rotary, Kiwanis and other service groups, the conduct of student government on the campus, and the participation of both students and faculty members in public and denominational life.

Social Life takes in fraternities, sororities, parties, pep-meetings and Greek-letter affairs, whether called Mercer or Macon. There is space here for get-acquainted parties for students in the gymnasium, the co-op and the dormitory for women.

Another division contains reports on the various student extracurricula activities, such as Glee club trips and programs, debating news, the Mercer Players and Alpha Psi Omega, the Dictum club and any free activity which is not a subsidiary of some department.

Finally there is a compartment for unclassified material, clippings that cannot be placed elsewhere.

The file of these newspaper scrapbooks dates to April, 1933, when Mercer subscribed to a clipping bureau for news about the centennial celebrations.

Lawyers to Stage Moot Murder Trial

Law students will get down to legal brass tacks next Tuesday when they plead the moot court murder case of the State vs. E. J. Buchan before Circuit Judge A. M. (Phil) Anderson.

R. C. Souder and Sam Lowe will act as prosecutors, while Remer Denmark and Enrique Alcaraz will defend Buchan, the accused murderer. Buchan is charged with the murder of Robert Wilton in the Oconee River swamp.

Judge Anderson will conduct the trial in regular court room style and the jury will be chosen in a like manner. Moot court officials pointed out that Tuesday night's trial will be the most realistic staged in several months. They invited all students to attend.

All participants, except the judge, will be chosen from the student body. The trial starts at 7:30.

Players Mark Anniversary With Comedy

Play by Wilde Will Be Presented May 1

Production date for the Oscar Wilde comedy of manners has been set for May 1, the fifth anniversary of the granting of a charter to the Zeta Pi cast of Alpha Psi Omega.

Plans are being made, according to Nat Lewis Kaderly, president, to invite all former members of Alpha Psi Omega to return for the program. To members now working with dramatic clubs, free admission will be given for any group of players they bring. Likewise any group of High School Thespians, any members of the junior college Delta Psi Omega, and any members of Alpha Psi Omega in any neighboring school may have free tickets upon application in advance. All three of the organizations are affiliated and recognize each other's work.

At Mercer during the past five years the average number of students per year able to qualify for membership has been about 15. Every year between 60 and 100 students take some part in Mercer Player programs.

Until 1934-35 there was no stage on the Mercer campus. Dr. Wilbur Stout, who had been connected with Alpha Psi Omega groups in West Virginia and Kentucky, built first a temporary stage in the chapel building, and gave students who were interested a chance to work on productions. National officials of the fraternity had been watching the enterprise, and the charter was readily granted.

Wedding

Law Student Marries In School Courtroom

Wedding bells rang in the Law school Wednesday night when Robert L. Callison, senior law student from Oswego, N. Y., and Miss Marion Ainsworth, University of Georgia student from Chicago, Ill., were married by the Rev. Dr. H. D. Johnson, Christianity department head.

The ceremony was performed in the court room of the Law school building with only a few friends and faculty members attending.

Best man was Frank Lawson, law senior. Mrs. Lawson was the matron of honor. David Mincey, another law senior, was groomsmen, and Miss Schelle Parbush was maid of honor.

Guests at the wedding were Acting Dean and Mrs. D. M. Feldt, Prof. and Mrs. Farinholt and Remer Denmark.

Callison transferred to Mercer this year from Stetson university, where he attended law school. He also attended Union college, and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Callison will take a short wedding trip to Florida this week-end.

Approximately 1,750 prehistoric skeletons and more than 48,000 artifacts have been recovered in Kentucky through a University of Kentucky WPA project.

Lees-McRae college students, at Banner Elk, N. C., have organized the country's farthest-south skiing club. Members make their own skis in the college wood-shop.

Scholar Gets $35000 Degree

FAYETTE, Mo. (ACP).—Obtain a college degree within a year or lose a gob of money. That's the ultimatum James Bothwell faced a year ago last month.

P. S.: He got the degree.

Bothwell was graduated from Central college at the end of the semester, less than a month ahead of a $35,000 deadline. But it was not a storybook finish to a romantic thriller for Bothwell. It was the end of the most strenuous year of his life.

Bothwell was astonished to learn in January, 1940, that he must have a degree by the time he was 25 to receive the legacy of an uncle. And on Feb. 19, 1941, he would be 25.

"I guess my uncle just wanted to be sure I had a college education," he said, "but up until last year I had no idea of the terms of his will. And you see, I'd been out of college for three years."

He had taken enough work in the University of Missouri to give him a major in mathematics, but still lacked 45 hours of graduating. So in January he closed his candy shop in Columbia, Mo., began commuting to Fayette and enrolled in 18 hours of courses at Central. There could be no loafing; each three-hour course was worth more than $2,300, but if he lost one he lost everything. The blue chips were down.

Toughest hurdle was the language requirement. "I never could have made it," Bothwell says, "if the dean hadn't let me take fourth semester Spanish without having had the first three semesters." And only a language student can imagine how tough

Wheat Germ Cures Student

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (ACP).—Seven years of doctors, crutches and wheel-chairs have finally ended for Rosemary Dengler, sophomore at the University of Rochester.

As the result of continued treatments with the new wheat germ discovered by Dr. Plato Schwartz of Strong Memorial hospital, University of Rochester, Rosemary has joined the throng of healthy, self-perambulating students.

A pre-medical student, Rosemary despite her illness had taken courses in extension before entering college, and also had attended summer school.

an assignment that was. Summer school followed, with Bothwell taking the maximum nine hours, and then last semester he again took the 18-hour capacity load. When the new school term started he moved to Fayette with his wife and 10-month-old son.
