

GLEE CLUB HOLDS INITIAL PRACTICE

Fifty New Men Out for Lee's Organization.

Practically the entire membership of last year's Glee Club, together with over fifty Freshmen, who are aspiring for a berth on the club, went through the ordeal of a tryout Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Prof. E. Powell Lee, who is at the head of the Department of Church Efficiency and Sacred Music at Mercer, is to have charge of the candidates for the club this season, and has plans for the club, which if they materialize will give Mercer the best Glee Club she has ever had.

A wealth of good material among the new men has been unearthed and it is thought some of the old members will have to "hit 'em high" if they travel about with the organization again this year.

More Tryouts

With such a big number bidding for a position, several will have to be dropped. This will be done gradually as the tryouts are held until about thirty men are left, these comprising the permanent personnel.

As soon as the club is in a position to organize, a business manager will be selected, who will begin immediately to arrange dates for the concerts. Usually about two long trips are taken each year, together with many week-end jaunts.

Just what Prof. Lee plans for the program is not known now, but will be given out as soon as he has looked over his permanent material. It is safe to say, however, that originality will predominate throughout; solos, quartette and chorus singing being mingled with some snappy comedy skits.

Girls' colleges always furnish the thrills for the club members each year, and it is certain that the organization will take in several of these institutions this season, including Wesleyan, Bessie Tift, Georgia State College for Women, and possibly Shorter, Agnes Scott, and Brenau.

Another feature of the organization will be Dan Davis' Novelty Orchestra, which has been augmented this year with several additional pieces. Davis is director of the Mercer Band and has had considerable musical experience, having been a member of the Six Society Syncopators since their organization over a year ago.

MALCOLM PAGE IN NOW ATLANTA AD MANAGER

Took Advertising Course Last Year, Now Holds Big Job.

It is getting to be popular with old Mercerians to break into print, just like they break into politics and be governors, senators, representatives, and the like. Following Bill Erwin's debut as a front page writer for the Carson-Newman College paper, comes Malcolm Shepherd Page, another Mercer man, and hands out a column of football dope through the pages of the "Grand Old Telegraph."

Page contributed an article on the strength of the Oglethorpe team and warned Mercer to "keep an eagle eye on one Mower," whom he describes as having "his niche in the football Hall of Fame" since he ran through the whole Tack team for a touchdown from behind. Malcolm is still a loyal Mercerite. He got his training in the field of advertising at Mercer and is now adding the knowledge he gained under Prof. Sparks. Last year he took a course in advertising under "Genial George" and is now advertising manager for the Atlanta branch of the National Carbon Com-

"DENGUES" LEAVE FOR VANDY'S GAME

Crippled Team Hopes to Hold Down Big Score.

Mercer's crippled football warriors entrained yesterday for the Alma Mater of Josh Cody to do battle with the strong Vanderbilt Commodores Saturday afternoon. This is the last of the "Big Three" of Mercer's schedule, since the "Dengues" (how's that for an appropriate name?) have already played Georgia and Auburn. In meeting the Commodores, Josh's boys will face some of the best football men in the South including Captain Jess Neely, fast halfback; "Tot" McCullough, giant end; "Scotty" Neil, famous for his wonderful kicking and Bomar, the tackle who made himself famous in the Georgia game of a year ago and in the Michigan game of two weeks ago. That Michigan game is to be remembered, for Vandy upset the dope considerably by holding the Wolverines to no points.

The "Dengues" will present the usual lineup of about half regulars and half second string men, since Ed Irwin, George Harmon, Beverly Gaines and Judge Dasher are on the sick list. Capt. Carl Lancaster is still too weak to play football, as well as many of the men who missed the Auburn game because of sickness. If Mercer scores, they have done better than Michigan and if they hold the Commodores to a comparatively low score they will return to Macon heroes.

KYLE T. ALFRIEND NOW AT BESSIE TIFT

Former Mercer Student and President of G. M. C.

Kyle T. Alfriand, who attended Mercer in 1894, and formerly president of Georgia Military College, at Milledgeville, has been appointed professor of history of education and psychology at Bessie Tift College, at Forsyth, and will take up his duties at an early date, it is said.

Mr. Alfriand at one time represented Baldwin county in the state legislature, and had previously been a member of the faculty at the Georgia State College for Women, at Milledgeville. He was formerly principal of Lanier High School in this city and during the past year served as chairman of the Georgia Educational Association.

GEORGIA BANS FUTURE INTERSECTIONAL GAMES

State University Team Has Invaded East and Central West.

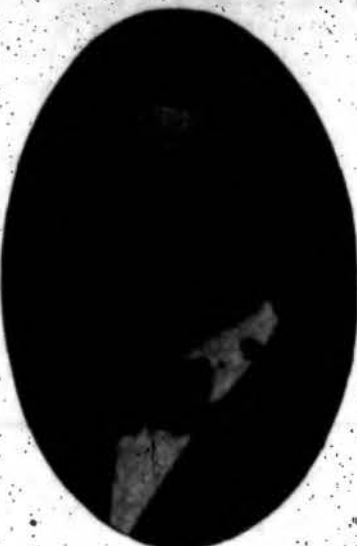

In a recent meeting of the Athletic Board of the University of Georgia, a ban was put on intersectional games to be played by that university's teams, when going beyond the Mason & Dixon line was necessary.

The reason for this action is, that too much time is lost from classroom work and that the trips really have no outstanding benefits.

Georgia's football team has invaded the East and the Central West. Last year the team losing to Harvard in Boston 10-7. This year the team invaded Chicago and lost to the more experienced team, 20-0.

S. T. REESE, PRESIDENT

In the recent Freshman class election, the following officers were elected to serve during the scholastic year of 1922-23; S. T. Reese, president; Adiel Moncrief, vice-president; and James Marsh, secretary. Reese is captain of the Freshman football team and Marsh also plays on that squad.

A. B. CONGER, mayor of Bainbridge and former Mercer University football lineman. While at Mercer was known as a debater and orator of ability. Elected to Georgia Legislature following his graduation from Mercer University. Now one of the Alumni Association's most loyal supporters.

Freshmen! Look Out For Mercer's Only Chinaman; Chinese Girl Is Blank

Freshman ladies men, watch your step! A secret has come to light that may mean trouble to the first-year Beau Brummel of Mercer. Chi Sun Chan, the only Chinese student at Mercer, uses plain American when he talks to ladies. Someone attempted to help Dan Cupid (and perhaps at the same time cut competition to a minimum) by arranging to have this son of the Orient call on the Chinese girl at Wesleyan, the only Chinese girl in Macon. Their efforts to promote this romance fell flat, however, for these two from the far East were too hampered by dialects and had to converse in English.

Now that Chan has tried his hand at handling maidens in a language which used to be strange, he has gained confidence and is seeking new worlds to conquer. Freshmen, a hint to the wise is sufficient! Chan is going back to Wesleyan parlors, but his English is far more useful there than his Chinese.

U. SINUMA, OF TOKIO, IN STUDENT BODY

Two Boys from the Orient in Pre-Engineering School.

The latest foreign addition to Mercer's student body is U. Sinuma, of Tokio, Japan.

Sinuma, or "Jack," as he has been nicknamed by Mrs. Worsham, is working his way through Mercer. He has only been in America for nine months and cannot speak English. He is here for the purpose of studying the course in pre-engineering, but it will be necessary that he take a year's work in English before he will be able to begin this course.

There is already a Chinese student in the school of pre-engineering.

PATCHED-UP TEAM SCORES ON AUBURN

Seven of Regular Team Are Sick With Dengue Fever.

With seven varsity men out of the lineup, Mercer's patched-up team sprung a surprise in last Saturday's game with Auburn and bucked a touchdown over the Plainsmen's goal line. The final count was 50-7 in favor of the Alabama boys.

The score does not indicate anything concerning the nature of the struggle. Auburn had to fight for every yard gained and always found opposition coming from the side of the plucky Baptist eleven.

The dengue fever kept seven varsity men from taking part in the game. Those men out were: Captain Carl Lancaster, "Shorty" Poore, Ed Irwin, "Kid" Cecil, "Judge" Dasher, "Hubber" Pope and Johnson.

Mercer's touchdown came in the first period, Felder carrying the ball over after a series of line plunges and end runs by the backfield.

DR. J. C. McAFEE IS BEST IN TOURNAMENT

Other Mercer Men Win at Idle Hour Country Club.

According to an article in Sunday's Telegraph, Dr. J. C. McAfee, a graduate of Mercer University and one of the best golfers in Macon, defeated Maitland Solomon, one down in 19 holes in the Idle-Hour Country Club golf tournament.

Dr. McAfee is general surgeon for the Georgia Casualty Company and is also a member of its board of directors.

Other Mercerians who defeated their opponents on the same day are as follows: Steve Solomon, Jesse B. Hart and John R. L. Smith, the last named being a prominent member of the present law faculty.

BASCOM S. DEAVER FOR FEDERAL JOB

Holds Two Degrees From Mercer and Was Debater.

Bascos S. Deaver, a graduate of Mercer in both the literary and law departments in the year 1906, and who has been serving as assistant Federal district attorney for some time, is strongly endorsed by District Attorney Bennett, who has recently resigned, as his successor to the office. He is now associated with the firm of Strozier & Deaver.

While at Mercer University Deaver was known as a good orator and debater, being prominent in society work of the time. He was a member of the Phi Delta Literary Society.

This office was formerly held by E. Clem Powers, who was also a Mercer man.

MERCER-MONTAGUE CLUB REORGANIZES

Mrs. A. B. Couch to Lead Wives of Ministerial Students.

The Mercer-Montague Club, an organization composed of women whose husbands are ministerial students at Mercer University, met during the past week and reorganized for the year. At this meeting the following officers were elected: Mrs. A. B. Couch, president; Mrs. C. M. Coalson, vice-president; Mrs. C. Poole, secretary.

The course of study outlined for the year is to complete the Sunday School Normal Course with some additional work in history and English. Under the leadership of Mrs. A. P. Montague considerable work is accomplished. Her faithful service is said to be much spiritual inspiration to the class.

An address is given the club on the last Thursday in each month by a member of the faculty or others. Hon. Warren Grice will address the club Thursday.

"Good Evening Guy" Loses His "Lizzie"; Goes To Junk Man

We are sorry to hear that our friend, Prof. Guy Cheney, better known on the campus as "Good Evening Guy," met with an accident recently. The Prof. with his young Lizzie, four days old, was motoring from Savannah to Augusta when for some unknown reason the young car had a severe choking spell. The patient professor nursed little Lizzie with the utmost care, but with no result—finally became angry and struck poor Lizzie full in the face with a hammer. Little Lizzie, the spitfire that she is, backfired and caught afire, which proved fatal to poor Lizzie. Now she is at rest in some junk dealer's yard.

We extend to the professor our heartfelt sympathy.

CICERONIANS ENROLL EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

Freshmen Debaters to Meet Phi Deltas.

The Ciceronians enrolled eight new members at their meeting Monday night.

The program was by far the most interesting of the term. Twelve Freshmen debated in the preliminary contest for places on the Freshman team that is to debate the Phi Deltas in the near future. The subject was: "Resolved, that co-education is desirable." The men who spoke were Messrs. Waterhouse, Adiel Moncrief, Harris, West, Smith, Claybrook, Smith, Berry, Hughes, Evans, A. J. "YOU BET WE DID"

If anybody asks you—
In the topics of the day—
"Who put the George in Georgia?"
Now, you can freely say,
"We put the George in Georgia,
In our democratic way!"
—Clyde Harris in At. Constitution.

CHAPEL BUILDING
The present enrollment is so large that when every student is present many will have to stand in aisle.
