

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
 The Henry-Dickey-Wages Legion Post held a party in the Co-op Thursday, Feb. 21. An excellent program was given by the Wealey-an Trio "Personality Girls" and by Mr. Wilson, a magician from Macon. Legion member Dolinsky earned a vote of thanks for his excellent program. After the program refreshments were served.
 It was regrettable that the veterans so poorly supported this party. The number of legion members present could be counted on two hands. In fact, the Legion is being so poorly supported by its own members, I suggest that it give up and turn in its charter.
 Signed, Robert W. Hites.

Blonde

 hungry for athletics. They would thrill — yes, even cheer — to the shrill signal for the opening kick-off at the Homecoming game; some would experience keen delight at hearing the dull thud of bodily contact by antagonists who are primed to the physical demands of the occasion; all would stand with you, hatless, tearful, and silent, to the strains of our Alma Mater as the music blended with the lazy afternoon dust at half-time; they would bound to their feet with unabated glee when a campus hero skirted across the double-stripes; and some might even have to hunt a lost Statson after the melee along with other enthusiasts who succumbed to the fervor of the game. Preachers, too, are so human.
 We ministers have a latent spirit which can surge forth at a given notice when the occasion warrants it. Don't sell us short. Don't judge us as the blonde did. Don't relegate the ministers to the monasteries of decadence or to the convents of indifference, oblivious to the things which go to make campus life refreshing or to make life "more abundant," an endowment promised and fostered by Jesus Christ Himself, whom we serve. May we sing with you, "Glory to old Mercer," and chant with you, "The fight song," and suggest, in this Negritic paraphrase of our motto, "United we stick, divided we're STUCK."

Study Course Held

Miss Olga Gore, President of the Ann Hasseltine Young Woman's Association of Mercer, reports that a very successful Study Course was held on February 13 and 14 in the parlors of Mary Erin Porter Hall.
 Miss Sara Stephens, State Woman's Missionary Union Young Peoples Leader, with headquarters in Atlanta, taught the book, Pray Ye; and had private conferences with each Y W A officer.
 The officers of the Ann Hasseltine Y W A are: President, Olga Gore; Vice-President, Anne Alday; secretary, Evelyn Griffith; and Treasurer, Evelyn McArthur.

Juke-Box

 It may be of interest to you to know that the proceeds from the "juke" will be placed in a special fund to improve the Co-op.
 If any of you know of a place where a juke-box can be obtained, please see me, or any other member of Blue Key as soon as possible. The quicker we get this project started the sooner we can help the "eye sore of the campus"—the Co-Op.
 Signed, I. W. Bowen.

THE BEAR FACTS

Intramural Basketball

Monday night, the ATO's jumped into the "win" column by virtue of a victory over the Minister aggregation. Although the Ministers have not won a game, I have heard several comments on the fine all-round play of the Minister guard, Hugh Wheelless.

The KA's and SAE's played the most exciting game of the season on the same night as they ended in a 23-23 deadlock. Wanninger again starred for the KA's and Dick Dismuke played well for the SAE's.

The Non-Frats remained undefeated Tuesday by easily defeating the ATO five. Bill Nee was the offensive star of the game and Lewis Smith and Andy McKenna played a fine defensive game.

The Football Question

Despite mass demonstrations by the student body, the trustees, at their meeting Tuesday of last week, evaded the question of subsidized football. They "postponed" the voting until a later meeting — "It seems to me I've heard that song before!"

By the time they finally get around to voting, and if they should give an affirmative vote, it will be too late to get up a decent schedule, much less a decent football team! Thanks for nothing! Trustees! Total Intramural Standings (Football and Volleyball)

Non-Sorority Wins Basketball!

The exciting girls' basketball games have finally ended, but the limping and bruises are still in the high lights. We'll all have to admit that the non-sorority girls really do have a team—"They just can't be beat," replies several spectators when watching them play the different sororities. The girls playing on the winning team were: Sara Lang, Rose Langdale, Verna Prince, Miriam Evans, Martha Wolfe and Waldeen Roberts. I understand that a team composed of the best girls from the other three teams are planning to challenge these girls one night next week. I still have my doubts about these girls being defeated.

Girls playing for Alpha Delta Pi were: Claudia Lee, Martha Currie, Virginia Howell, Anne Thomas, Ruth Baker.

Chi Omegas playing were: Ruby Jo Wolfe, Capt.; Nora Hart, Elizabeth Pickron, Elaine Denson, Marian Burnette, Margaret Tabb and Janie Willoughby.

The outstanding Phi Mu's were: "Pot" Smith, Capt.; Vallusia Anchors, Betty Latham, and Sally Sams, Nat Blossom.
