

Mercer Will Be Host to Girls February 24-25

Mercer will be host to 50 or more girls, who are being invited here for a week-end of special activities February 24 and 25.

Each girl in the dormitory can invite friends who might be interested in coming to Mercer. Margaret Nelson, Decatur, chairman of activities, requested that Mercer girls write to the prospective guests this week, and she stated that special invitations will be sent from the Dean of Women.

Jane Buebec, Vienna, program chairman, announced a special program for the week-end, including the Mercer-Troy Teachers game Friday night. Betty John Henderson, Ocilla, chairman of the reception committee, stated that coffee would be served in MEP after the game.

Dr. Rich has announced that a group from the choir will sing in an informal program Saturday morning in the chapel. Tentative plans also call for a skit showing activities at Mercer, and introduction of officers of various activities.

Saturday night a campuswide party is being planned by Mildred Roberts, Columbus, and her committee. Further plans will be announced later.

Julius Johnson

Johnson Heads SAE Fraternity

Georgia Psi chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its bi-annual election last week and chose Julius Johnson, Macon, to serve as president for the coming year. Julius is a senior economics major and a member of F.B.L.A. and the "M" Club.

Other officers chosen at the meeting were Hal Boswell of Macon, vice-president; Joe Roland of Wrightsville, reporter; and Charlie Miller of Macon, treasurer.

Noted Philosopher Offers Advice for Full Education

Denton, Texas—(ACP)—Dr. Will Durant, noted philosopher, in a speech at the Texas State College for Women gave a list of works and authors everyone should know for a complete education:

"Trojan Women" by Euripides; "Lives" by Plutarch; "Confessions" by Augustine; and "The Rubaiyat" of Omar Khayyam (translated by Edward Fitzgerald); The essays of Montaigne and of Emerson; "Leaves of Grass" by Whitman; "Don Quixote" by Cervantes; Voltaire's "Candide"; and Boswell's "Life of Johnson".

Bacon's essays; Shakespeare's plays; Voltaire's short stories; works of Anatole France; Goethe's "Faust"; Keat's "Odes"; works of Shelley; "War and Peace" by Tolstoy; "Le Pere Goriot" by Balzac; and "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" by Gibbon; The works of Flaubert; "Brothers Karamazov" by Dostoyevsky; Thoreau's "Walden"; "Lives of the Painters" by Ruskin; and Plato's "Republic".

Also, the King James version of the Bible, especially the New Testament, and Isaiah, Proverbs, Psalms and Songs of Solomon in the Old Testament.

Social Highlights

By ANNE WILLIS

The sisters and pledges of Alpha Delta Pi together with the alumnae are planning a party to be held in the suite at which time everyone will bring a gift for the suite. Ruth Dunwoody is in charge of the party for which the date has not been set. The group also is planning to sponsor the March of Dimes Drive on the Mercer campus in a campaign similar to the one which was carried on last year and which netted almost three hundred dollars for the benefit of the polio stricken.

The brothers of Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Alpha got together last Friday night at Dixon's Lodge for a joint shrimp supper. A program was presented consisting of a reading, "Save Your Confederate Money," by Jim "Spider" Milwain, and several solos by Joe Dellman. Afterwards Shorty Sheridan and John Lewis led the entire group in the singing of fraternity songs. The idea of joint fraternity parties is spreading around now, and we welcome the true fraternity spirit which is again taking its place among the Greeks here on our own campus.

This afternoon the model pledge of the fall pledge class of Kappa Alpha will be initiated into the fraternity. After the initiation, a supper will be held at the Southern Manor, at which time Dr. Ralph Newton, member of the Mercer faculty and KA alumnae, will give a talk in honor of Robert E. Lee.

Continuing the series of open houses which began last quarter, Chi-Omega entertained Lambda Chi Alpha last night at the Chi Omega house from 10:00 to 10:30. Jean Carlisle and Janice Weathers were in charge of the affair, and on hand to help with the entertaining were two new pledges, Fay Allen and Martha Martin, who were pledged yesterday. Congratulations to Fay and Martha and also to the sorority.

The pledges of Eta Chapter of Sigma Nu entertained with an open house in the suite Monday night for brothers, pledges, rushees, and dates. Argin Boggus, was in charge. Frankie Bullard, black face and all, gave a take-off on Al Jolson. Jane Maddox and Russell Wilson sang "What's Your Name, Little Boy", and the group sang fraternity songs. Dr. and Mrs. Paul Cousins and Mr. Anthony Stansfeld chaperoned.

Congratulations to Brothers Jimmy Waters, George Jones, and Fred Williams who were initiated into the bond of Phi Delta Theta last Saturday afternoon. After the initiation a stag fish fry was held to celebrate the initiation of these brothers.

The pledge class of the fraternity has announced the election of John Buchanan as new pledge president, John Morrison as secretary, and Don Lewis as chorister.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, in elections last week chose some mighty fine officers. Julius "Scooter" Johnson is the new president, and other new officers include Hal Boswell, vice-president; Joe Roland, recorder; and Charlie Miller, treasurer. Tomorrow night will find this group along with their dates journeying to Holly Bluff for a 'possum hunt. The hunt will begin around 7:30, and 'possums or no 'possums, a good time is expected by all who plan to attend.

More congratulations—this time to "Binky" Russell of Wesleyan who nabbed Billy Leggett, fraternity pin and all, and to Jeannine Brice who is now sporting Wendell Sear's Sigma Nu pin.

Harvard Graduate School To Offer Scholarships In Regional Program

The second annual offering of scholarships under the nation-wide Regional Scholarship program of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration was announced last month by Dean Donald K. David.

Providing $50,000 in awards to a maximum of 55 men entering the school in September, the Regional Scholarship program is designed to insure "that well-qualified students without sufficient financial resources will be able to continue their education in the graduate field of business administration."

Recipients Selected

Each region of the country is allotted its own scholarships under the plan and recipients are selected by competition on a regional basis. The regional scholarships are as follows:

Far Western (five scholarships): Arizona, California, and Nevada.

Mid-Atlantic (five scholarships): Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

Mid-Western (fifteen scholarships): Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Mountain States (five scholarships): Colorado, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, and Wyoming.

New England (five scholarships): Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

Pacific Northwestern (five scholarships): Idaho, Oregon, and Washington.

Southern (ten scholarships): Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Offered in Southwest

Southwestern (five scholarships): Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Dean David explained: "The Graduate School of Business Administration has always prided itself on keeping its doors open to men from all economic levels and from all parts of the country. If the School is to continue to serve the nation in the development of leaders to carry business responsibility, this policy must continue."

Under the Regional Scholarship program, the actual amount of the award to each scholar will depend directly on individual financial need. Selection of men to receive the scholarship will be made on a basis of aptitude for business training, without regard to financial need. In extreme cases, the scholarship may cover the entire cost of a man's training for business administration.

To Train Men

The Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration has as its primary objective the training of men to become responsible businessmen; not students of business nor specialists who know about business, but men able to work in business and capable of developing into responsible executives.

Teaching is based on the "case method" in which the problems of business are attacked in terms of actual business cases, and the student is repeatedly placed in situations where as an administrator he must not only evaluate evidence but also act with responsibility.

Applicants should write to the Committee on Scholarships, Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration, Soldiers Field, Boston 63, Massachusetts for application forms and detailed information. The deadline for applications will be April 1, 1950.

South Wants Light-Hued Cars

With the possible exception of Florida, the southeastern states currently are showing a definite preference for lighter colors in automobiles, according to color preference surveys recently completed by the General Motors Styling Section in Detroit. Florida car buyers, alone, tend toward darker hues in this area of the country. The sectional map shown is updated regularly on the basis of sales reports, and GM stylists keep constantly alert to color likes and dislikes of its customers. The wide variance of color preference throughout regional areas in the U. S. was revealed in a series of exhibits at the GM "Mid-Century Motorama" in New York. G
