

B. T. C. GIRLS NOW STUDY JOURNALISM

Prof. George Sparks is Head of New Department.

Among the new courses offered in Bessie Tift's raised curriculum is the organization of a journalism class, Prof. George Sparks, publicity manager of Mercer University, being head of this new department.

Miss Eloise Hammack, former student of Bessie Tift, will act in the capacity of assistant to Prof. Sparks. About twenty students have thus far registered for work in this class and others are expected to enter their names on the roll. Although the members of this department are beginners at the work, great things are anticipated under the tutelage of the able instructors.

The class will issue a paper of its own and the columns of the Mercer Cluster will also have Bessie Tift news sent in by the young lady journalists from time to time.

New Glee Club May Eclipse Last Year's

First Practice Finds Many Stars Returned.

By A. V. Howell

The greatest glee club in the history of the school, new costumes, new scenery, and new faces are the prospects of Mercer's musical organization for the coming year, according to R. L. Hurst, a leader in the club last year.

The first tryout was held Monday and Director Powell Lee is very enthusiastic over the prospects. Practices will be held regularly in preparation for a tour of the principal towns and cities of North Georgia, which is being planned for the fall term. Atlanta, Rome, Dalton, Cedartown and Chattanooga have expressed their desire for the club to return again this year and it is hoped that the trip can be made before Christmas.

Every student in the school is eligible to tryout for the club. The scholastic requirements are the same as for any branch of athletics.

The last year's club was known as "Greater Mercer's Greatest Glee Club." The new talent on the campus this year justifies the prediction that this year's club will eclipse the success of last season.

League of Nations On Mercer Campus

Seven Foreign Countries Represented in Cosmopolitan Club

By "Clank" Burghard

The Cosmopolitan Club at Mercer shows a substantial increase in its membership of foreign students over last year. Seven different foreign countries are represented. Mercer has the basis for a miniature League of Nations. The following is the membership to date: Ronald Young, Edinburgh, Scotland, G. B.; Chi Sun Chan, Canton, China; Edgar M. Dunstan, Elotas, Brazil; Alberet Dunstan, Porto Algue, Brazil; Artemio Montoya, Lima, Peru, and Raymond Suarez, Havana, Cuba.

A survey of the list of students enrolled in the registrar's office shows that Mercer has drawn men from over a third of the States of the Union. Florida leads out-of-state representation with fifteen. Alabama and Tennessee are tied with thirteen each. Men from as far west as Texas and California and as far north as Maine and New York have answered Mercer's clarion call.

BESSIE TIFT STAGES REVUE FOR POPULACE

Male Admirers Have the First Glimpse of College Girls.

The first weekly parade of the Bessie Tift College girls before the young men of Forsyth took place last Sunday morning when the students went in a body to the services at the First Baptist church.

Forsyth's young gallants were seen lounging in the cars or loafing on the corners, especially in front of the Red Cross and Alexander's Pharmacy. The girls walked slowly or quickly by, as the inclination struck them, and the young men gazed until the last girl had passed.

Then they stepped on the gas, stripped their gears, and amid dust and embarrassed giggles, slowly lided up and down past the marching girls. We suppose it is a necessary evil—and since we are ladies we suppose it is ours not to reason why—ours but to do and die.

THAT "HELLO HABIT"

When Coach Robinson cautioned the new men about taking up the "Hello Habit" in his short talk at the College Night exercises, he spoke the keynote toward building up a genuine Mercer spirit:

It is especially fine for every Mercer man to know his fellow colleagues. There is nothing that he will appreciate more after getting out in life than the acquaintance of the men he learned to know while in college.

So it is important for every new man to get in the habit of speaking to the fellows when he meets them, whether he knows their names or not. If you will notice, the old men have the habit. A freshman can tell an old man when he meets him because he recognizes him by speaking.

When you have the habit of speaking to every Mercer man when you meet, whether on the campus, street or anywhere, then you will come to know each other much better, and will appreciate your college career twofold. W. O. D.

GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS FEATURES 91st OPENING

(Continued from page one)

lian, of Wesleyan College, offered in vocation.

The large number of freshmen assembled for their first get-together meeting of the year, heard for the first time the strains of the Alma Mater song led by Prof. E. Powell Lee, director of the Glee Club. Miss Lucile Mallory, recently returned from a concert tour of the West, gave a vocal solo near the end of the program, the hearty applause of her listeners signifying their approval of the number. Other music for the occasion was furnished by Dan H. Davis' college orchestra.

BOTH TEAM SEEM TO BE EQUALLY MATCHED

(Continued from page one)

Orange and Black are inclined to dilute their confidence with the element of doubt. A large number are not talking much but are using all spare energy in hoping that the outcome will be favorable to the Baptists. According to dope, the eleven representing the Old Dominion is rated in the same class with the Georgia Bulldogs. That being the case, the Hornets from Furman are about two touchdowns better than Mercer.

That's one side. Another side says that about the only thing Dope has done this season is to be upset. This happened in a number of instances Saturday—and the Mercerians themselves contributed a formidable slap at the old gentleman. Moreover, reports from Charlottesville, the stamping ground of the Virginians, say that the Dominion's warriors outplayed the invaders in every department of the game except the score itself. So the argument on both sides seems to nearly weigh equal, and that puts the fans right back to the lead of this article. If determination to win means anything, one of the two teams will lose, for both are so determined.

The Baptist warriors declare they are going to do all they possibly can on the gridiron tomorrow, and the students and fans say they are going to do all they possibly can in the way of giving support—and between them both it would seem that they will lick Furman's platter clean.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

WANTED—Students to know that the College Co-op Club is operated in the interest of the Mercer Athletic Association. If its stationery, novelties, fruits, eats, candies, milk drinks and other things good to the college campus taste, the College Co-op Club has it.

WANTED TO BUY—Underwood typewriter in good condition. Call at Room 220, Sherwood Hall.

WANTED TO SELL—Hartley's Latin Grammar for Latin B. See Leonard Williams at the Dean's office.

FOR SALE—Used College books of all kinds. See J. W. Jones.

WANTED TO EMPLOY—Two first-class salesmen for city trade. Address Faculty, post office box 13.

FOR SALE—"Red" Marshall's homemade sandwiches at College Co-op Club.

STOLEN—One of Bessie Smith's best Victor records from College Co-op Club. Just bring it back and start the record playing. Other fellows are being deprived of a fine piece of music.

WANTED—Every Mercer man to be his loyal place at Furman game.

WANTED—Everybody to know that the College Co-op Club posts all football scores not later than one-half hour after the game is played—in any part of America. Special facilities installed to handle scores by quarters.

WANTED TO BUY—Pair of old shoes No. 8. See John Langford, college janitor.

Mercer Headquarters The Quality Shop

"SHOP FOR MEN"

Bibb Realty Bldg.

408 Cherry St.

CLOTHING HATS FURNISHING GOODS

"PARSON" CHANDLER

"RED" SIMMONS

"RED" LAWRENCE

"CROOK" SMITH

Campus Representatives

WELCOME

Mercerians, we are glad to have you back with us.

Again, as in previous years, we renew our invitation to make Neel's your downtown home, and you are urged to take us up on this.

The Fall clothes are here. It doesn't cost anything to look them over, so come when you get settled.

John Neel

One Price to Everybody

520 Cherry St.

FELLOWS!

Send THE CLUSTER to your girl. Let her read the Livest College Paper from the South's Best University.

She wants to know what YOU and MERCER are doing.

Sent by mail—$1.50

Hugh Awtry August Burghard T. Ayer Hatcher

Look, Boys, Stationery at Amazingly Low Price

The absolutely correct thing in personal or professional correspondence. Box of 200 popular size sheets and 100 envelopes to match, fine white bond. Name and address only (not exceeding four lines) printed in blue at top in center of sheets and on envelope flap. Attach a dollar bill or money-order to this ad, with your name and address plainly written. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. THE DOLLAR PRESS, Post Office Box 1, Atlanta, Ga. Think of it. And only $1.00 prepaid. A-108