

Socially Speaking

By PEGGY CARLISLE

I guess everyone has turned his thoughts from social news to home, good food, etc., since Thanksgiving is not too far away. Here's hoping everyone will have a swell Thanksgiving and enjoy those mornings of sleep while they last.

Congratulations go out this week to Alpha Tau Omega, winner of the football trophy; to Chi Omega, winner of the tennis trophy; to Chi Omega and Alpha Delta Pi who won their volleyball games Monday night.

Several fraternities have chosen their pledge sweethearts. They are: for Kappa Sigma, Tula Robinson; for Kappa Alpha, Dot Poole; and for Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Marilyn Money.

Congratulations to all of these girls, and also to Mary Nell Johnson, new Kappa Sigma sponsor; and Bobby Edge, a new Chi Omega pledge; to Carole Adams and Bobby Nickles who are pinned.

We were all glad to see Betty Norton back with us last weekend visiting the Chi Omega's.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving holidays but don't get too full of turkey so that you won't make it back to school on Nov. 30.

"BROTHER RAT"

Wingfield), who is manager of the ball team; "Tripod" Andrews (J. C. Adcock); and "Mistol" Bot-tome (Grady Newberry), a rat.

Involved also is Lt. "Lace Drawers" Rogers (Noah Lindsey), a stern-faced officer. Elton Johnson plays the part of a member of the Guard.

Harley Harrington (John Rabun) is a senior and the Officer of the Day, who gives the other boys a rough time.

Speaking of a rough time, think of how you would feel if you were Claire when he father, Col. Ramn, walked into the dormitory room where she was busily engaged in coaching Bing for his exam.

The play is directed by Dr. Helen Thornton, and several students assisted on the production angle. Among them are Allie Webb Callaway and Mayo Hartley, student directors.

Tuesday morning of this week, the chapel program featured an introduction of the characters and a brief preview of the action.

On Friday night the seniors from Lanier, Miller, and Macon Vocational High Schools are to witness the play as guests of the University.

Chi Omega Holds Party for Frats

On Thursday, November 13, Chi Omega held its annual Open House beginning at 6:30 and lasting until 10:30. The fraternities came in alphabetical order at 30-minute intervals. Light refreshments were served, after which the skit "Cinderoola" was presented.

Those in the skit were: Lib Morgan, Jane Carol Adams, Peggy Whitehurst, Peggy Carlisle, Sylvia Reeves, Carolyn Fretwell, Mary Roberts, Jewell Bentley, and Mary Jane Sanders.

Phi Mu Party Is Held at Jonesco

Lake Jonesco was the scene of the annual Phi Mu hayride, Saturday, Nov. 16. The girls and their dates met at M.E.P. at 6:30 and left for their destination. Arriving at Jonesco the pledges entertained both sisters and dates with a minstrel. Dot Poole, president of the pledge class, was in charge of the program.

After the program the group sang sorority songs and enjoyed a wiener roast.

Student Council For PMS&T Set

Colonel Wiley B. Tonnar, today announced the creation of a PMS&T Student Council.

This council will make recommendations to the PMS&T about matters which should improve the ROTC Unit.

Colonel Tonnar stated that the PMS&T Student Council may recommend not only new procedures, but changes to present procedures of Leadership, Drill and Exercise of Command and class-room work.

This Council will represent all members of the ROTC regiment on ROTC activities, such as: ROTC Day, Rifle Team, and Military Ball. All members of ROTC student committees for the various activities will be designated by the PMS&T Student Council.

The members appointed to this Council and the organization or class which each represents are as follows: Cadet Captain Thomas Leonard Crews, Scabbard and Blade; Cadet Captain Clifford Eugene Carroll, Pershing Rifles; Cadet Second Lieutenant Michael Larry Blum, Second Year Advanced course; Cadet James William Buckingham, First Year Advanced Course;

Chi O Retires Tennis Trophy

By Mary Anna Branson

Exciting is the only word big enough to describe the activity that will be taking place in the Mercer gym next Monday night, when ADPi will play Chi O for the season's volleyball championship. Both organizations have four victories and only next Monday night will decide who will walk off with the highest honors.

MICA will play Phi Mu in the preliminary game, which is also stated to be one to be watched carefully.

Good sportsmanship and hard work have paid off to the Chi O sorority to the tune of a well earned trophy this past week.

Margie Saunders, Helen Faulkner and Peggy Carlisle will long be remembered by their sorority sisters for their fine work in winning this year's tennis tournament, thus enabling Chi O to keep a trophy that has taken it three years to earn.

Margie displayed her exceptional abilities in tennis by winning every set in singles that she played this year. Helen and Peggy, who played tennis doubles for Chi O, also came out on top to take this year's tennis doubles.

DOT POOLE

Dot Poole Is KA Pledge's Choice

Dot Poole, of Rockmart, was announced Pledge Sweetheart of Kappa Alpha at the K.A. Open House, Sunday, Nov. 9. Dot is a member of International Relations Club, a cheerleader, President of Phi Mu pledges, and works on the Cauldron.

Tula Robinson, Kappa Sigma pledge sweetheart, and Mary Nell Johnson, chapter sponsor, receives roses in recognition of their selection.

Kappa Sigma Selects Sweethearts; Officers for New Year Named

On Friday, Nov. 14, at 8:00, Kappa Sigma held its annual sweetheart ball at Baconsfield Club House. New officers were announced with Wilma Holloway named Grand Master. Roy Johnson was elected as Grand Procurator; Grand Scribe will be Jim Boyd; Grand Treasurer, Homer Lassiter; and David Rozier was named Grand Master of Ceremonies.

After the officers were announced, the president presented Miss Mary Nell Johnson as the sweetheart of the fraternity.

The program was then turned over to the pledges. Ferrill White, president of the pledge class announced Miss Tula Robinson as the pledge sweetheart.

Mary Nell Johnson, transferred from Georgia Teachers' College her sophomore year. She has been a cheerleader for three years. She is on Student Government and a member of Phi Mu Sorority. Tula, the newly elected pledge sweetheart is president of the Alpha Delta Pi pledges, a member of W.A.A. and works on the Cluster.

After the presentations were made, the group enjoyed an informal dance with Georgia Military College Orchestra furnishing the music. Wilma Mindonsa and H. S. Sauls entertained the group with a number, their own interpretation.

Vesper Program Plans Announced

"Let's go to Vespers", has come to be a popular phrase in all the dorms about 6:30 every evening except Sunday evening. Proof of this is shown by the attendance of so many students at the services.

Yet there are still many of us who are failing to take advantage of this 15 minutes of "inspiration, singspiration, and fellowship, which refreshes those who do attend, and enables them to attack their books with greater ease. Following is the schedule of vesper services through next Tuesday night.

Nov. 21, Margaret Caudill; 22nd, movie; 24th, singspiration; and 25th Thanksgiving program.

Lake Rabun Is KA Party Scene

Lake Rabun will again be the scene of a fraternity houseparty, but this time a different group of people will be there. The brothers and pledges of Kappa Alpha along with their dates will leave Macon Friday afternoon and return Sunday night.

Wally Odum is in charge of arrangements for the K.A. houseparty.

Pi Kapps Hold Informal Dance

On Saturday, Nov. 15, Pi Kappa Phi met at Forest Hill Lodge at 7:30 for a hamburger fry and informal dance. A group of Wesleyan girls put on an entertaining program. Sid Carswell was in charge of the party.
