

With Our Exchanges

By Malcolm Johnson

The Brenau Alchemist, student publication of Brenau College, is enthusiastic in its praise of the Mercer Glee Club, giving nearly a column of favorable criticism in the last number of the paper. The "Eight Kings of Rhythm," they say, "literally took us out of our seats, and we just could not keep still while that was going on."

The article closes with this paragraph: "The days of yesterday must have been fine and we have no doubt that there are great things in store for tomorrow, but, speaking in terms of a glee club, give us today. O-H, boys, please do it again."

The Southern Drawl, new magazine gotten out by the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism, of the University of Georgia, is destined, says The Red and Black, to set a precedent in college journalism in the South. According to The Red and Black, The Drawl promises to be one of the South's greatest periodicals.

And necked for quite a spell;
They drank a little corn—
The rest ain't fit to tell. —Ex.

The college and university editors of Florida met at Lakeland, Fla., the 15th of this month at the annual session of the Florida Collegiate Press Association. Student publications all over the state were represented. The Rollins Sandspur sent two representatives.

Georgia Tech's radio broadcasting station has proven highly successful, according to all reports. Weekly concerts are broadcasted every Monday night. Letters and telegrams of congratulations for the splendid concerts have been received from all over the United States and Canada, it is said.

Contrary to the general and more popular rule, the freshmen make their own laws by which they shall be governed at Carson-Newman College. The sophomores seem to be left entirely out of their scheme of existence.

The Wesleyan Watchtower has started a column under the caption, "Look Before You Leap." It is a series of Leap Year proposals, and no doubt affords the girls ample room for practice when the real leaping begins.

The Oglethorpe Petrel got out a twenty-page Memorial Campaign Edition last week in order to boost the drive Oglethorpe is staging to raise $50,000 in Atlanta.

The Grapurchat (we don't know how to pronounce it), published by the students of Radford State Normal School for Women, of East Radford, Va., is a new exchange on the Cluster list. In the last issue The Grapurchat celebrated the third anniversary of the paper.

The Furman Hornet wants to know if the age has gone paint-crazy, and says that the term, "Fair Sex," when used to designate femininity is a fizzle and a misnomer. The Hornet suggests the phrase "rouge tragie" as a far better term.

The Blue Stocking, published by Presbyterian College, reports the following mild little sign found posted on a strawberry patch near the P. C. campus: "College boys will be persecuted to the full extent of two mean mongral dogs which ain't never been ovariarily sociabil with students, and one double barrel shot gun which ain't loaded with no soft pillers. Dam, if I ain't tired of this hell raisen on my property every year."

Thrift Week was observed at the University of Kentucky by the University Y. M. C. A. not long ago. All students were required to keep an account of expenditures and assets during the week.

THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Taylor wish to express their sincere and heartfelt appreciation to the "Montague Club" and all others who took part in the cabinet shower given to them on last Saturday afternoon.

JUST FROM WESLEYAN

By Special Correspondent

Dear Cluster:

Please take a message to that Glee Club over there for me. Tell them that all the hearts they threw out the other night have found a peaceful resting place on the honored page of sixteen widely envied memory books. And now pilgrimages are being made to their sacred shrines—and let it be so.

The Kings of Rhythm will rule over here without a rival, until something better comes to take their place in these 'fickle creatures' imaginations, but be comforted, it will not be easily found. Please have "Jimmie" and "Bill" come over and serenade as a guarantee against the "Blues."

And ever since the perusing of that pitiful story about those poor unfortunates who are being swamped with scented missives we have been figuring and figuring on how to help them out; and the only thing in the world we can think of is an Anti-leap Year Drive for their benefit. The "flappers" might join them since the timid little girls seem to be taking all of the desirables with their poetry, and even free verse. This organization could very easily be perfected if the Athletic Association could be persuaded to post such signs as the Community Chest uses on all of the athletes. Suggestions for the signs might be: (for "Consuello" Smith)—Down With Leap Year—They Leap Too Fast; (for "Red" Lawrence)—Leap Year Is Too Often—Red Hair Gets Them; All; (for Manly McWilliams)—I Prefer My Choice—Leap Allows No Freedom, etc., ad cetera.

And since we are so very smart we would like to say that, if Georgia wins we'll be surprised.
Still, Mary Anne.

A YEAR AGO THIS WEEK

By Leonard Williams

Society Day was celebrated on Thursday with Bessie Tiftites on the Mercer campus in full force.

One hundred and fifty dozen whole wheat rolls were being eaten at each meal by Mercerites, according to "Dad" Aultman.

Alpha Alpha Chapter of the Pi Kappa Pi fraternity of Mercer was installed on Saturday night. Representatives from Georgia Tech, Emory, Oglethorpe and the University of Georgia were present at the installation and a banquet which followed at the Hotel Lanier.

The Saturday morning Club was organized with J. L. Drake as first president; L. C. Smith, vice-president and C. E. Elkins, secretary.

The Bessie Tift journalism class edited the week's issue of the Monroe County Advertiser under the direction of Prof. George Sparks.

Dr. William Russell Owen first proposed an athletic stadium for Mercer. Dr. Ragsdale spoke at the Tuesday vesper services, Dr. Fox on Wednesday and Frances Hulme on Thursday.

TO BANQUET ROTARIANS

About 800 delegates, representing Rotary clubs from all over the state, will be entertained with a banquet at the Daniel Marshall dining hall on March 15, during their annual convention to be held in Macon March 14 and 15.

The members of the Rotary clubs are leading men in all phases of activity. Among the members of the local Rotary club are some of the most prominent members of the Mercer faculty. The authorities of Mercer University consider it quite a privilege to entertain this body of men, and will do everything within their power to make it a success.

Successful Students Must Have Good Vision

THE young men and women of today, who have successfully passed through various stages of school life, have either had good eyesight or have worn glasses that gave them normal vision.

Without good vision good work is impossible. We overcome the prejudice against wearing glasses by making them pleasing to the eye and efficient in vision.
