

Humanities Bldg. To Be Dedicated on June 1st

The new Humanities Building now under construction on the corner of Ash and College Streets, is expected to be completed sometime in May and will be dedicated on Alumni Day, June 1.

The classrooms will be put into use when summer school begins on June 16. The new building will provide classrooms to replace those in the existing Economics Building which will be torn down.

There are 15 large rooms which will provide space for 40 to 50 students; two small classrooms which will hold 25 students; and two seminar rooms will also hold 25 students. For the teachers there are 13 offices and a projector room will be made out of one of the large classrooms.

The entire Christianity, modern language, classical language, and philosophy departments will be moved into the new building. Three English instructors will also occupy the new rooms.

The economics department will be moved from the present economics building to the Christianity building. The entire physics department will move into the red house behind the chemistry building.

The present structure of the Humanities Building is just one wing of the over all blue print. Another wing has been planned and will be built sometime in the future and will furnish 13 more large classrooms and 17 offices.

The architect is Elliot Dunwoody and the contractor is A. R. Briggs.

Lee To Replace Ray Brewster

Heslip M. Lee will serve as director of religious activities at Mercer next year during the absence of Ray Brewster, who has a leave of absence to study for a doctorate degree at Union Theological Seminary.

Lee will take over the duties of director of religious activities next September when Brewster attends Union Theological Seminary on a Danforth Campus Christian Worker Grant. Brewster was one of 21 college religious workers in the nation to receive the newly-created 12 months grants, offered for the first time this year by the Danforth Foundation.

A 1954 graduate of Mercer, Lee will receive the bachelor of divinity degree from Colgate-Rochester in June. He has also attended Truett-McConnell Junior College. His wife, the former Miss Laura McClung, is a Mercer graduate. They have five children.

In Georgia Mr. Lee has served as pastor of the Antioch and Balerna Baptist Churches, and for the past three years has been pastor of the Baptist Church of York, N. Y. His other activities include being a scoutmaster, an officer in the Farm Bureau, Parent-Teacher Association, local Red Cross drives and community improvement clubs.

The direction of the field department of the divinity school, in a letter to Mercer president Dr. George Connell, wrote that "Lee is a person of tremendous energy, phenomenal organizing ability, and is a pastor of the first caliber. In many respects the work he has done as pastor of the rural church he has been serving is probably the most creative thing being done in the entire rural church field in New York State at the present time."

Mercer Alumni Meet In Atlanta

The Georgia Teachers Chapter of the Mercer Alumni Association had a luncheon at the Georgia State College of Business Administration in Atlanta last Friday. The luncheon was held during the annual meeting of the Georgia Education Association.

President George B. Connell gave a report on Mercer's building program, and Dr. Paul M. Cousins spoke on "A Closeup of Mercer's Educational Program Today." Dr. Connell was introduced by Dr. Rabun L. Brantley, Mercer vice-president and executive-secretary of the Alumni Association.

Other members of the faculty who attended included Dr. Hayden C. Bryant and Dr. H. Lewis Batts.

Which is Harder Finals or Baby?

(ACP)—"Who says final week is so rough? "asks the Washington State College DAILY EVER-GREEN.

The newspaper reports the case of one WSC student who took finals and motherhood easily in stride last month.

"Mrs. Donald E. Kissinger was taken to the hospital in the middle of exam week to prepare for the arrival of son Robert.

"As a result of the occasion, Mrs. Kissinger took her last exam in the hospital before the baby was born. Her husband registered for his wife so that she may resume her studies this semester.

A LITTLE LUCK HELPS

(ACP)—Why do some students "succeed" scholastically in college while other fail? Lehigh University's BROWN AND WHITE asked that question and got a variety of answers from readers.

Among factors contributing to success and failure: good high school training, conducive study atmosphere, "a good beginning," too much time spent on hobbies, "luck," lack of genuine interest and dull instructors.

Six Married Couples Work on MU Campus

Mercer has six married couples on its faculty and administrative staffs.

Two of these couples tie for teaching the longest time on the campus. Both Mr. and Mrs. Riley Plymale, and Coach and Mrs. Zeb Vance came to Mercer in 1942. Mr. Plymale had served earlier from 1925-28 as assistant professor of Math.

Mr. and Mrs. Plymale came to Mercer from Tift College in 1942. Upon returning to Mercer, Mr. Plymale became an associate professor of Math. In 1955 he became a full professor. Mrs. Plymale is an associate professor of English.

Coach Vance, has served as associate professor of Health and Physical Education since coming to Mercer. Mrs. Vance came as instructor of Economics and secretarial studies. So became an assistant professor in 1948. The Vances are the parents of three children.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Rich serve as a team in the Mercer Music department. Dr. Rich came to Mercer in 1944 as the Roberts Professor of Music. Mrs. Rich became University Organist in 1945 and Instructor in Music.

Mr. Melburn R. Mayfield and his wife, who is on the library staff, also form a team. Mr. Mayfield is assistant professor of physics and the coach of the tennis team.

This past fall, another couple arrived on Mercer's campus. Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McAllister. Mr. McAllister is an instructor in the history department, and Mrs. McAllister is secretary to the Dean of the Liberal Arts School.

The University Business Manager, Mr. John Holding and his wife, who manages the laundry form another team.

Course Presents Problem

(ACP)—"We cannot see the justice," says University of Kansas DAILY KANSAN editorial editor Jerry Dawson, "in allowing married students to compete with unmarried students in 'Marriage and the Family.'"

"Perhaps an arrangement could be made where the uningles would not be asked to come to class until the second half of the subject matter is taught."

WHAT IS AN UNSMOKED LUCKY?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

TRY THIS: put a pack of Luckies on a pedestal—under glass. Observe closely for several days. What happens? Not a thing. You've just learned the hard way that an unsmoked Lucky is simply Waste Taste! Light it, and it's simply wonderful. You see, a Lucky is made better to taste better. It's packed end to end with fine tobacco . . . mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Don't just wait around—light up a Lucky. You'll say it's the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
