

Georgia People Draw Her Admiration and Respect

by Charlotte Moore

(This is the sixth in a series on representative members of Mercer's social organizations.)

"What do I like best about Mercer? Georgia people! They fascinate me, and, you know, they are individuals."

These are the words of Carol Honeywell, Phi Mu hailing from the home of many Mercerians—Vero Beach, Fla.

Carol transferred here after her freshman year at FSU. In one and a half years at Mercer she has been active, being vice-president of Phi Mu, a member of the Honor Council, secretary of Future Teachers, a member of Kappa Delta Epsilon, and of the Wesley Foundation.

She has served on the Pan-Hellenic Council, and last fall was tapped for Cardinal Key.

Carol is majoring in elementary education and plans to teach fifth grade. She is especially interested in "hi-fi music and Fennell," and is especially proud of her car, "Traveller."

"Usual MEP Complaints"

She thinks that Mercer's greatest social problem is that none of the students give their best, either to the school or to their social organizations and clubwork. She had, too, the usual complaints about MEP.

The Women's Student Government is too restricted and it doesn't really express the opinions and feelings of the women residents. Those minute rules tangle everybody up!"

One of Carol's most important activities is her position on the Honor Council. She is very enthusiastic about the honor system, but thinks that more student co-operation and support is needed.

"I wish each person under the honor system would accept his responsibility to monitor himself," she says. And I wish too that students would acquire the right attitude toward the system. So many are hypocritical about it, condemning others for cheating as they commit the same crime on a 'less important' test."

Anschluss in Vienna, the various crises which led to World War II, was in Berlin the day Hitler went to war and remained in Germany until the end of 1940.

In 1941 Mr. Shirer's famous "Berlin Diary" came out and was an immediate best-seller and a Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

He returned to England in 1943, to France in 1944, to Germany in 1945 and in the Spring of that year covered the birth of the United Nations at San Francisco. He went back to Berlin in 1948 to cover the airlift and two years later made a prolonged survey of Europe, which resulted in his book, "Midcentury Journey," a Literary Guild selection.

Mr. Shirer, who goes back to the Continent regularly, wrote a popular sequel to his earlier work in "End of a Berlin Diary," published in 1947, and has recently been working on another book on Germany, this one a comprehensive history of the Third Reich, based not only on his own experiences there but on hundreds of tons of secret German documents recovered by the Allies, much of which has hitherto remained unpublished.

William Shirer has been the recipient of many honors: the George Foster Peabody Award, radio's greatest prize; the Wendell Willkie One World Award for his outstanding achievements in journalism; and the Legion of Honor from France. He is president of the Author's Guild and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, the Foreign Policy Association and the Farm Bureau.

Girl Scouts Offer Girls' Summer Employment

"Summer is a 'cumen'!" College girls and women graduate students interested in summer jobs which combine scholastic values with opportunities for outdoor living will find thousands of openings awaiting them in Girl Scout camps.

Operated by nearly 650 girl Scout councils throughout the country, these camps give 150,000 girls 7 through 17 years old a chance to live, work and play with girls of differing backgrounds, in the informal atmosphere of the out-of-doors.

Hundreds of counselors over 18 years old are needed to share these wholesome experiences on a partnership basis. The basic requirements are good health, enthusiasm, patience, adaptability, and love of children. Candidates also must be in sympathy with the objectives and philosophy of Girl Scouting.

For students 21 years or older, there are numerous openings as unit leaders, waterfront directors, program consultants, food supervisors, health supervisors, business managers, and assistant camp directors. Camp directors must be 25 or over.

Salaries

Salaries vary with the assignment and the candidate's previous experience, qualifications and training. Depending on the length of the camp season and the location of the camp, laundry and travel expenses may be included. A basic pre-camp training session of about five days' duration is provided for all staff members.

Many schools allow field work credit for Girl Scout camp jobs, toward degrees in such subjects as social work, sociology, education, science physical education, and recreation. The experience furnishes invaluable insights into the attitudes and reactions of girls, as well as a practical background for future participation in the growing school camp program.

Other People

The girl scout organization tries to help girls learn to accept, appreciate and enjoy other people. The camp setting and a competent staff are means of accomplishing this. The organization encourages well qualified adults of varying racial, religious, and nationality backgrounds to apply.

College girls and women graduate students interested in an expense-free summer combining professional preparation with outdoor living should call the nearest Girl Scout office—usually listed under "G" in the phone book—for additional information on available opening.

Sticklers!

Don't just stand there . . . STICKLE! MAKE $25

Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (No drawings, please!) We'll shell out $25 for all we use—and for hundreds that never see print. So send stacks of 'em with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, New York.

WHAT IS THE SLEIGHT-OF-HAND THAT MAKES A PACK OF LUCKIES VANISH? (SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

NEAT FEAT? No! Slick Trick? A thousand times no! When a magician makes a pack of Luckies vanish, it's a plain case of Tragic Magic! Connoisseurs claim there's one approved way to make Luckies disappear. That's to smoke (Yum!) every last one of 'em! That way, you get the wonderful taste of Luckies' fine tobacco . . . light, good-tasting tobacco that's toasted to taste even better. So, Ladies-ann-Gentlemen, observe a pack of Luckies closely. Then carefully remove one (1) cigarette and light up. Presto! You're puffing on the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked!
