"Just Crazy About Mercer"

Frosh Leader Raleigh Powell Likes Mercer

by Haywood Ellis

Raleigh Powell is the new president of the freshman class and he is "crazy about Mercer."

At Mercer, the new freshman president is a pledge of Phi Delta Theta, and has joined the pre-law club and the ROTC rifle team. He has recently joined the Vineville Baptist Church in Macon.

Powell said that he has not made too many plans for his work as freshman class president at this time, as he wants to wait long enough to see what the school really needs before he starts in.

According to Powell, the rush and orientation systems here rate high with entering freshmen. He said he had "a pretty good time" during rush, and liked "the way they went about it."

"All the freshmen that I talked to seemed to like the rush system," he said. "Of course, we've never seen any other system."

The same holds true with the orientation system. "We all learned a lot about the school before it started," Powell said.

Powell stated that he didn't have an opinion on the Honor System here, and said that all the freshmen he knew accepted it as part of the school. It seems to work.

What does he like best about being away from home attending Mercer?

"I like being away to school on your own. You can do things kinda like you've always wanted to. Also, at such a small school you can get more individual attention."

Has he found much difference between classes at Mercer and his high school classes?

"Having lectures is the only difference—except it's harder."

Honor Seat Goes To Marvin Ballard

Marvin Ballard, junior from Macon, has been appointed to fill the vacant position on the Honor Council. The number of justices is now complete at nine.

A selection committee announced the appointment last week. Ballard fills the position held by Iverson Joiner who resigned because of afternoon employment.

Ballard is a pre-med student. In the extra curricular field, he is in Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological fraternity, and was treasurer of the German Club. He is the present treasurer of Phi Delta Theta.

The selection committee for members of the Honor Council as set up by the SGA Constitution consists of the president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the SGA and the president of the senior class, together with three faculty members appointed by the president of the University.

Phi Delt took a close one from the Togas of Kappa Alpha Monday, coming out on the long end of a 6-0 score.

Willard quarterback Win Perkins passed to Charles Keaton who worked his way down field to make the only tally of the afternoon. The Toga defense stopped the Willard bid for the conversion.

The Togas were lead by quarterback Jake Clarke who piloted the KA offense.

Phi Delt's win over the Togas left them with a 4-2 record with two games remaining to be played. The Togas record stood Monday at 1-4.

You Don't Like Referees? Why?

by Pat Norton

So you don't like your intra-mural football referees.

Well, let's take a look at the program of obtaining these referees and what's being done to improve it.

Coach Claude D. Smith, intra-murals director, says the Mercer intra-mural system works "very well" and that other colleges have come to Mercer to study the program.

Coach Smith said there have been complaints about the quality of the officials but he's inclined to place them along with the persistent complaints about dormitory food and chapel. They're inevitable and there's nothing you can do about it.

There may be room for improvement, though, he says. "We could hold classes for the referees so that they can learn the finer points of calling a good ball game."

The coach didn't think there was much way of getting better officials. Besides, he said, that would take a lot out of the game.

"If there were expert officials on the field they would penalize the teams so much we'd never get anywhere."

Crescents Take Lambda Chi, 21-6

Kappa Sig took one from the Big L's of Lambda Chi Monday, coming out ahead 21-6.

Cliff Kenney and Charles Deal led the attack for the victors accounting for two of the winner's three TDs between them.

The Crescents, after taking this win stood with a 2-3 record for the season's play.

Big I. quarterback Scribner passed to Charles Coca for lone tally posted by the Lambda Chi.
