

Senior Doug Harris Named Bear Captain

Doug Harris, a 21-year-old senior from Taylorsville, was elected captain of the 1959-60 edition of the Mercer Bears basketball team in an election held Monday, November 23.

Harris was elected over two other senior nominees, Tommy Johnson and Ray Banks. To be elected captain of any varsity athletic team at Mercer a man must have previously lettered in that sport while enrolled at Mercer.

Harris moves to the forward position this year after three years at a guard berth. In his only previous effort at playing forward, Harris filled in last year for Norman Carter when Carter was injured for one game. He did an unusually good job in the unfamiliar position, scoring sixteen points and gathering in eighteen rebounds.

It was known that Harris could score but people were uncertain about the ability of a mere six-footer to grab many rebounds in a game where most of the players at forward stand at least six feet four inches and better.

Last Monday was the end of the volleyball intramurals as Chi Omega won the tournament in a final victory over Phi Mu. The trophy went to the Chi Omegas as they were undefeated in the entire season.

Tuesday night Phi Mu beat Alpha Gam to take second place in the volleyball intramural. This ends the intramurals for the full quarter.

In the overall outlook of the intramurals for fall quarter Phi Mu won first place in the tennis intramurals and AdPi won second. Chi Omega won first in volleyball and Phi Mu won second place.

for the score. The extra point attempt was batted down. The score Sigma Nu 12, All-Stars 12. The ball game appeared to be over.

Last-Ditch Pass

However, the All-Stars were to have the last word.

The kickoff was brought back to midfield. On second down the "home-run" pass occurred. One reason why the "sleeper" play was so successful was that earlier in the quarter, Jay had been knocked out and had received a badly cut mouth when he collided with Jim Rodgers while trying to catch a pass.

Jay was not expected to see any more action during game, and was unnoticed on the sideline of the field.

Then Whidden faded back to pass and did an excellent job of faking by looking to the right side of the field and then firing the perfect shot to Jay in the left end of the end zone.

This pass broke up an inevitable tie between the two teams.

The extra point attempt again was incomplete but the damage had been done.

The Sigma Nu's completed a long pass on the kickoff but time ran out before they could get off another play. The "sleeper" play woke the All-Stars to an 18-12 victory over previously unbeaten Sigma Nu.

has installed four new patrons and patronesses as part of the celebration of its founding.

The Omicron Iota Chapter was installed at Mercer on Nov 21, 1958.

Installed Monday night as patrons and patronesses were Mrs. George B. Connell, Mr. Jim Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Thompson, all of Macon.

Other patrons and patronesses include Dr. Arthur Rich, Mr. James D. Woodward and Mrs. Willis B. Glover.

Dr. S. B. King Will Publish Revised Paper

Dr. Spencer B. King Jr., head of the history department, has edited another document to be published in this December's Georgia Historical Quarterly.

The title of the article is "Impact of Impresment on Northwest Georgia as Seen in a Peti-

Cotton Maid To Be Picked

Applications are now being received in the National Cotton Council's Memphis office from young girls interested in representing the cotton industry as its 22nd fashion and good will envoy. Twenty finalists will be named to compete for the honor in Memphis on Dec. 18 and 20.

The newly named Maid will travel to Dallas on Dec. 31, the day after her selection, and will make her first public appearance at the Cotton Bowl. Her visit to Texas will be sponsored by the Texas Cotton Association, the Texas Ginner's Association, and the Dallas Cotton Exchange.

Following an appearance at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the Maid of Cotton will leave for New York, where she will be outfitted in her all-cotton wardrobe styled by the nation's top designer. She is scheduled to open an international tour in Washington, D. C., in late January.

Seven months of travel will take the cotton industry's representative coast to coast in the United States and to Canada and Europe.

To be eligible to enter the 1960 Maid of Cotton contest, a girl must have been born in one of the 18 cotton-producing states and must not have been married. She must be between the ages of 19 and 25 and must be at least five feet, five inches tall.

Girls interested in entering the 1960 Maid of Cotton contest may obtain applications from the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12, Ten. Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, Sunday, Dec. 6.

The contest and tour are sponsored annually by the National Cotton Council, the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association, and the Cotton Exchange of Memphis, New York, and New Orleans.

The purpose of the article is for the Floyd county citizens to have General Bragg to order General Cobb stop the impressment of the foodstuffs on the soldiers.

Dr. King, who could be said to be representing the citizens of Rome, Ga., where he lived at the time, has revised and made more factual the original petition owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Carr, residents of Rome.

An article on Dr. King's other works appeared in the Cluster earlier this year.

Then with a minute and a half left in the game, Tarpley faded back and hit David Kellum with a 35-yard pass to the All-Star ten year line. Two plays later, Tarpley completed a pass to end "Snuffy" Smith who made a fine catch
