

ATLANTA MUCH IN DEBT TO MERCER

Capital City's Who's Who Educated in Macon

ARE DISTINGUISHED CITIZENS

Mercer's Atlanta Public Men Run Into Hundreds

Should some magnetic power take from Atlanta those of her population, who received their education at Mercer University...

Atlanta's distinguished citizens as given in Who's Who in America show that seven per cent of that number were educated at Mercer...

Present And Past

An ex-President of Mercer and the oldest living alumni live in Atlanta. The last ex-Governor was a Mercerian...

The first President of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce, who for five years played basketball for the Atlanta Athletic Club...

Baptist churches with Mercer pastors in Atlanta outnumber those from any other college. The pastor of the largest Baptist Church in Georgia is a Mercer alumnus...

The first juvenile protective woman officer in Atlanta and the South, was one of two of the only women to graduate from the Mercer Law School...

All Prominent

Those who Mercer has trained for service in the public life of Atlanta run into the hundreds. The most widely known are Thomas W. Hardwick, ex-Senator and Governor; Harry Stillwell Edwards, author and Associate Editor of the Southern Literary Magazine...

The president of Agnes Scott and Beattie Tift College are Mercer University graduates, while the founders of Shorter College, Brenau, Beattie Tift and Baylor University were all graduates of Mercer University.

WILLIAM HAMILTON FELTON, JR. M.A., B.L. Professor of Law

A.B., Mercer University, 1878; B.L., University of Virginia, 1880; admitted to Bar of Georgia, 1880; member Georgia Legislature, 1886 and 1887; solicitor general of Macon Circuit, 1888-96; judge of the Superior Courts of Macon Circuit, 1894-1912; chairman of Exemption Board of the Southern District of Georgia during World War; dean of Mercer University School of Law, 1919-22.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees of Mercer University are among the leading men of the State. The term of each man is arranged so that a majority of old men are in office all the while.

Men from all walks of life are on the Board of Trustees of Mercer University. There are seven preachers, nine lawyers, one physician, seven business men, one governor of the State and one United States Senator.

The president of the Board of Trustees is Judge W. H. Davis, of Waynesboro; the secretary, E. S. Davis, Macon, and the treasurer, B. D. Ragsdale, Macon.

The trustees whose terms expire in 1923 are R. L. Bolton, Madison; Geo. C. Evans, Sandersville; John B. Goerry, Montezuma; F. R. Martin, Macon; R. C. Norman, Washington; C. H. Parker, Baxley; T. J. Hamilton, Augusta; F. J. Singleton, Lawrenceville; N. L. Stapleton, Colquitt; Hugh M. Willet, Atlanta.

Those whose terms expire in 1924 are M. L. Brittain, Atlanta; E. C. Calloway, Atlanta; E. F. Campbell, Gainesville; John T. Chapman, Savannah; E. T. Holmes, Barnesville; J. W. Jenkins, Zebulon; W. G. Lee, Macon; Wm. Russell Owen, Macon; Spencer Tunnell, LaGrange; A. R. Willingham, Macon.

The trustees whose terms expire in 1925 are M. A. Clark, Macon; E. B. Davis, Macon; W. H. Davis, Waynesboro; W. F. George, Vienna; Warren Grice, Barnesville; H. L. Hall, Newnan; W. A. Hogan, Lincolnton; J. D. Howard, Milledgeville; T. E. Ryals, Macon; J. B. Turner, Albany; Clifford M. Walker, Atlanta.

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees is composed of M. A. Clark, chairman; E. S. Davis, secretary; Warren Grice, W. G. Lee, F. R. Martin, T. E. Ryals, A. R. Willingham, Wm. Russell Owen.

W. H. Davis, A. J. Evans and

200 AT L. G. I.

With the completion of the first month of its twenty-eighth year, Locust Grove Institute, distinguished secondary school of the Mercer University System, is well started into what promises to be one of the brightest years of its existence.

Upwards of 200 students are enrolled and with all the work necessary to adjustment at the beginning of the school session now completed, the student body is well established with the regular routine.

Along athletic lines particularly the coming year seems destined to be a notable one, according to news reports from the institution. And L. G. I., which has before this led the preparatory schools of the state with its orchestra, expects to put one in the field this year that will be second to no school orchestra in this part of the South. Prof. Reidel, of Amsterdam, Holland, is in charge of the organization.

Dr. Claude Gray, Mercer alumnus and upon whom the local institution two years ago conferred the degree of LL.D., has served the preparatory school as president for many years, and under his leadership the institution has been greatly developed from its humble beginnings.

T. E. Smith, who received his Master's degree last June, has been added to Dr. Gray's faculty. Prof. Smith graduated at L. G. I. before entering Mercer. Two other members of the faculty, Prof. Riley B. Plymale, now commandant, and Prof. W. F. Pate, head of the Department of Latin and Greek, are also Mercer alumni.

Nearly sixty of Mercer's student body received their prep training at Locust Grove Institute.

HENRY FOX, B.S., M.A., PH.D.

Professor of Biology B.S., University of Pennsylvania, 1899; M.A., ibid., 1903; Ph.D., ibid., 1905; Harrison Scholar in Zoology, 1899-1900; University Scholar, 1900-01; Harrison Fellow, 1901-02; research work at Marine Biological Laboratory, Woods Hole, Mass., Summers of 1901, 1902, and 1911; Investigator, Harvard Medical School, Summer of 1905; Assistant in Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy, University of Pennsylvania, 1900-01; Assistant in Biology, University of Wisconsin, 1902-03; Professor of Biology, Temple University, Philadelphia, 1903-05; Professor of Biology, Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., 1907-12; Instructor in Biology, Summer School, University of Pennsylvania, 1908-13; Instructor in Biology, Medical College, Philadelphia, 1910-13; Investigator, Carnegie Institution, 1907-11; Field Investigator, U. S. Bureau of Entomology, 1912-13; Field Investigator on Japanese Beetle Project, U. S. Bureau of Entomology, Summers 1919-21; U. S. Deputy Game Warden, Macon, Ga., 1921; member American Association for the Advancement of Science, Society of American Zoologists, Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, American Entomological Society, Association of Economic Entomologists, Audubon Society, and Sigma Xi Scientific Fraternity; Secretary-Treasurer, Georgia Academy of Science, 1922; author of about a dozen papers on Vertebrate Embryology and Entomology, and writer of some general articles on Bird Protection and Forest Conservation; Professor of Biology, Mercer University, 1912-.

OTIS DEWEY KNIGHT, A.B., A.M., Associate Professor of Education, A.E., University of Texas, 1913; Phi Beta Kappa, Peabody Scholar 1915-19; A.M., University of Texas, 1920; instructor of Modern Languages, San Marcos Academy, 1920-22; tutor in Germanic Languages, University of Texas, 1918-20; assistant professor of Modern Languages, Mercer University, 1922-23.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO BE BEST YET

"Beat Georgia!" Is New War Cry of the Baptists

CECIL LEADS NEW ELEVEN

Prospects for a Winning Team Seem to Be Fair

BY MILTON K. WALLACE

The dawn of a new era of athletics is tinging the Mercer sky, and then behind the black horizon an orange tint of promise is blazing—promising an orb that will make secondary the other lesser suns and lights and make Mercer University's team rank with the greatest teams of the country.

When Coach Stanley Robinson came to Mercer, he faced a problem that few coaches have had to contend with. He had to deal with a team that has been taught and instilled with the idea that a good defense is the best offense. He faced a crew of men who have been taught the art of being game losers. To lose gamely is all right, but is Mr. Robinson's idea to make the men game winners and winners of games.

"Hold Georgia!" has been the battle cry of the Baptists for several decades. That was the cry of those grim little men that fought for the advancement of Mercer on the gridiron years ago with sure defeat staring them in their faces; and such has been the cry that has echoed down to the present day.

"Beat Georgia!"

But now the war cry has been changed to a war whoop, and the word "beat" has been substituted for "hold," with emphasis on the "beat." "Beat Georgia!" is now the cry that resounds from the Mercer campus, and behind that cry is the spirit of determination handed down from some sixty odd teams that have gone down to defeat before the onslaught of the Red and Black.

This year's prospects are fair. Captain "Kid" Cecil, sensational half-back, has been selected to lead the destinies of the Baptists this season, and supported by such other men in the backfield as "Shorty" Poore, Norman Felder, "Tarzan" Bowling, "Hop" Morgan, "Little" Reese, Marlon Roberts, "Scotty" Young, "Geechee" Chapman, Dave Rice, and others batting for victory berths, the backfield prospects seem very encouraging. This year's line will probably be lighter than any that has represented Mercer in many years, but the men are seasoned and there are several veterans among the candidates. There are probably two men for every position on the team that are as good as the others.

For ends, "Crook" Smith, three-letter man, will play one position. The other candidates for the end positions are Joe McClain, "Julius Caesar" Wood, "Son" Bammons, and Sid Ellison.

Barker and Carson will hold down the center position. The other linemen who are practically assured of being given a chance to strut their stuff in the regular games are Mike "Jaw" Herndon, Baxter Cole, Bob Lancaster, Bill Freeman, "Colonel" Simmons, Bailey, McDonald, Jewers and Womack.

PEYTON JACOB, A. B., A. M. Dean of the School of Education, Professor of Educational Psychology and Methods.

A. B., Mississippi College, 1906; M. A., ibid., 1908; Fellow in Education, University of Chicago, 1916-17; six years public school Superintendent; member Mississippi State Text-Book Commission, 1918; Professor of Philosophy and Education, Baylor College, 1911-1913; Dean of Summer School and Director of Summer Normal, Baylor College, 1913-1915; member of Southern Society for Philosophy and Psychology; member Phi Delta Kappa and American Sociological Society; member Accredited Committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools; Professor of Education, Mercer University, 1918. Dean of School of Education, Mercer University, 1920.

WILLIAM EDMUND FARRAR, A. B., M. A.

Dean of University and of College of Arts and Sciences, Professor of Greek.

A. B., University of Richmond, in 1890; graduate student, University of Virginia, 1890-92; M. A., Bethel College, 1901; Licentiate, Instructor, University of Virginia, 1893; Professor of Ancient Languages Union University, 1892-97; Professor of Ancient Languages, Bethel College, 1910-12 and also 1913-18; elected President Bethel College, 1918; member American Philological Association; member Accrediting Committee of the Association of Georgia Colleges; Dean and Professor, Mercer University, 1918.

In 1835 Thilorier liquefied carbonic acid gas.

In 1919 Canada's population was 2.24 per square mile.

Make Persons Your Home

Thousands of Georgians Visit Our Store Daily It's the Place to Meet Your Friends and Purchase Sodas, Toilet Goods and Fresh Drugs

Table with 3 columns: AGENTS FOR WHITMAN'S FINE CANDIES POUND, $1.50; AGENTS FOR BLOCK'S Aristocrat Candies POUND, $1.50; AGENTS FOR HUNNALL'S FINE CANDIES POUND, $1.50. Includes agents for Elizabeth Arden's Toilet Preparations and Venida Hair Nets.

Table with 2 columns: SAVINGS ON PATENTS and SAVINGS ON TOILET GOODS. Lists various products like Mentholine, Dorin's Rouge, Coty's Face Powder, etc. with prices.

We Are Exclusive Agents For Stomachic Tonic. Each bottle is guaranteed; increase your weight four pounds, relieve indigestion and remove pimples on the face or body. Large bottles 70c.

Advertisement for Persons A Modern Drug Store. 163 Cherry St. Macon, Ga. Mail Orders Carefully Filled.