

NOTED ORGANIST AT TIFT

Marilyn Mason, one of the four concert organists who will dedicate the organ at the new Lincoln Center, New York, presented a recital at Tift College last evening.

Miss Mason, who has taught at the University of Michigan since 1946, puts music above all else. Her repertoire is all inclusive with a special emphasis on contemporary music.

"Unlike many concert organists, Miss Mason seems bent on discovering the composer and lets his music sing itself, rather than make a show of virtuosity," stated reviewer Rodolphe Janson-LaPalme.

Miss Mason studied under Nadia Boulanger and Maurice Duruflé in Paris and under Arnold Schnoeborg in this country.
