

HOW TO SEE EUROPE FOR ONLY $300 A DAY: NO. 1

Summer vacation is just around the corner, and naturally all of you are going to Europe. Perhaps I can offer a handy tip or two. (I must confess that I myself have never been to Europe, but I do have a French poodle and a German shepherd, so I am not entirely unqualified.)

First let me say that no trip to Europe is complete without a visit to England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Liechtenstein, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Russia, Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, Crete, Sardinia, Sicily, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Lapland, and Andorra.

Let us take up these countries in order. First, England.

The old ones are thrown away

The capital of England is London—or Liverpool, as it is sometimes called. There are many interesting things to see in London—chiefly the changing of the guards. The guards are changed daily. The old ones are thrown away.

Another "must" while in London is a visit to the palace of the Duke of Marlborough. Marlborough is spelled Marlborough, but pronounced Marlboro. English spelling is very quaint, but terribly disorganized. The late George Bernard Shaw, author of Little Women, fought all his life to simplify English spelling. They tell a story about Shaw once asking a friend, "What does g-h-o-t-i spell?"

The friend pondered a bit and replied, "Goatee." Shaw sniggered. "Pshaw," said Shaw. "G-h-o-t-i does not spell goatee. It spells fish."

"How is that?" said the friend. Shaw answered, "Gh as in enough, o as in women, ti as in motion. Put them all together, you get fish."

This was very clever of Shaw when you consider that he was a vegetarian. And a good thing he was. As Disraeli once remarked to Guy Fawkes, "If Shaw were not a vegetarian, no lamb chop in London would be safe."

But I digress. We were speaking of the palace of the Duke of Marlborough—or Marlboro, as it is called in the United States. It is called Marlboro by every smoker who enjoys a fine, rich breed of tobaccos, who appreciates a pure white filter, who likes a soft pack that is really soft, a Flip-Top box that really flips. Be sure you are well supplied with Marlboros when you make your trip abroad. After a long, tiring day of sightseeing there is nothing so welcome as a good flavorful Marlboro and a foot-bath with hot Epsom salts.

Epsom salts can be obtained in England at Epsom Downs. Kensington salts can be obtained at Kensington Gardens, Albert salts can be obtained at Albert Hall, Hyde salts can be obtained at Hyde Park, and the crown jewels can be obtained at the Tower of London.

The guards at the Tower of London are called Beefeaters because they are always beefing about what they get to eat. This is also known as "cricket" or "petrol."

Well, I guess that about covers England. In next week's column we will visit the Land of the Midnight Sun—France.

Wherever you may roam in Europe and in all fifty states of the Union, you'll find Marlboro ever-present and ever-pleasant—filter, flavor, pack or box.

DAVE BRUBECK

Brubeck To Appear At Wesleyan May 3

Mercer jazz buffs have a real treat in store. The Dave Brubeck quartet, featuring Paul Desmond, plays at Porter Memorial auditorium at Wesleyan College on May 3, at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 and are on sale in the Mercer Book Store.

Brubeck is one of the best known jazz musicians in the business. His popularity has sometimes obscured the fact that he has set many new directions in the field. In doing so he has left the 4/4 time traditionally set for jazz, remarking "Jazz has to be freed from all unnecessary restrictions if it's to continue to develop as the expression of a free individual."

macists in the Atlanta area and throughout the state, and (3) increasing public disinterest in the pharmacy profession.

The Southern College of Pharmacy has an enrollment of 102 students, compared with 221 in 1959. This drop in enrollment has been attributed largely to a recent change in pharmacy education requirements from a four to a five year program, and also to increasing disinterest of students to enter the pharmacy profession.

The College, operated as a school of Mercer University since 1959, is faced with a deficit of approximately $80,000 at the close of the present school year in June, and an approximate 100,000 deficit the following year.

The Southern College of Pharmacy was founded in Atlanta in 1903. It operated as a private school until its merger with Mercer University on July 1, 1959, a merger necessitated because of accreditation difficulties.

It was a merger of convenience for the College of Pharmacy, and the 1959 merger agreement stipulated that the College would be operated by Mercer University "so long as it could be operated without a deficit from income which would be provided from its students, present endowments, income from future endowment, and/or donations made by persons or firms interested in the maintenance of the School."

Peace Corps Placement Tests Given Saturday

Mercer students available for summer training programs for Peace Corps service in 44 countries should be sure to take the Saturday, April 27, placement test at 8:30 a.m.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver reminded students that there are 4,000 new opportunities in the Peace Corps, with training slated to begin in June, July and August. In order to process questionnaires and place candidates for projects, the Peace Corps should have questionnaires and test results as soon as possible.

The examination is given at designated U. S. Civil Service Commission testing centers. A new test consisting of a half-hour section on general aptitude and another section of the same length on modern language aptitude will be given for the first time on April 27.

tectural school, said he would probably continue in that field, but he has recently invested in three beginning record companies.

By the way, the Lettermen really did better in high school—baseball, football, basketball and track.

began singing folk music on campus, later met Tony, and formed the group. In a very short time they had a contract and started their climb. They have been guests on many television shows including Ed Sullivan, Steve Allen, and Red Skelton.

The trio harmonizes by ear, doing their own arrangements as they go. Each being a baritone leaves them free to switch parts frequently, often in the middle of a song. Tony, having sung with Mitchell Boys' Choir as a youngster, has had the most training, but neither Jimmy nor Bobby suffers from this lack.

In answer to a question about future plans if the group should ever separate, Jimmy said he would try to join another group "equal to the Lettermen, or better" or continue his education at Brigham Young University majoring in music education. Bobby would return to B. Y. U. to major in psychology but would definitely "stay in recording though not traveling." Tony, who has two years in archi-
