NON-EXCLUSIVE DISTRIBUTION LICENSE

Any author publishing work in URSA (Mercer University's Digital Repository) must either own the copyright for the work or have the copyright owner's/owners' permission to publish in URSA. Authors retain copyright for submissions, assuming they own it. For details on how to secure permission or retain certain rights at the time of publication, contact legal counsel's office.

If the submission contains material for which you do not hold copyright, you represent that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant Mercer University the rights required by this license, and that such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of the submission.

By signing and submitting this license, you (the author(s) or copyright owner) grant to Mercer University the non-exclusive right to reproduce, translate (as defined below), and/or distribute your submission, including the abstract.

You agree that Mercer University may, without changing the content, translate the submission to any medium or format for the purpose of preservation. You also agree that Mercer University may keep more than one copy of this submission for purposes of security, back-up and preservation.

Mercer University will clearly identify your name(s) as the author(s) or owner(s) of the submission, and will not make any alteration, other than as allowed by this license, to your submission.
