WALTER F. GEORGE SCHOOL OF LAW

MERCER UNIVERSITY

GENERAL INFORMATION. The Walter F. George School of Law of Mercer University is located in Macon, Georgia, about 80 miles south of Atlanta. Founded in 1873, it is one of the oldest private law schools in the nation. Named for a distinguished alumnus who served as a United States senator for 36 years, the school became a member of the AALS in 1923 and has been ABA-approved since 1925. With its distinctive Woodruff Curriculum and a total student body of roughly 440, Mercer Law School provides an educational environment that offers in-depth learning, a candid and lively exchange of views, and a genuine sense of community and collegiality.

DEGREES AWARDED. The study of law at the Walter F. George School of Law consists of a three-year program directed toward the J.D. degree. A joint J.D.-M.B.A. program is offered in conjunction with the School of Business and Economics. In addition, the law school offers a Business Certificate Program and a Legal Writing Certificate Program. The Law School offers an LL.M. Degree in Federal Criminal Practice and Procedure—the only program in the nation designed for law school graduates seeking to prepare themselves for federal criminal practice as a prosecutor, Federal Defender, or private defense counsel. Please see our website for more details at www.law.mercer.edu.

ADMISSIONS. As a top provider of legal education, Mercer Law School is selective in admissions. Each year, many highly qualified college graduates apply for a limited number of seats in the first-year class. Our admissions process aims to select from the applicant pool students who will contribute to our academic community during their three years of legal education and, ultimately, to society and the legal profession. Persons interested in applying for admission to the Walter F. George School of Law may access information at www.law.mercer.edu or email the Admissions Office at admissions@law.mercer.edu. You may also contact us directly at 478-301-2605. Any correspondence by mail should be addressed to: Mercer University School of Law, Office of Admissions, 1021 Georgia Avenue, Macon, Georgia 31207.

LAW LIBRARY. The Furman Smith Law Library has a staff of thirteen, including six professional librarians. The librarians provide extensive instruction in both print and electronic research as part of the curriculum. The library's collection includes over 350,000 volumes in books and microforms as well as a wide array of legal and non-legal electronic resources. Carrels, tables, soft seating, "smart" study rooms and a technology lounge are available to law students. Throughout the library and law school, students have wireless access to the library and law school network via their personal laptops. The library's web site features an extensive collection of annotated links to Georgia and federal legal research materials. For more information about the library visit <http://law.mercer.edu/library>.
